Gilbert, 2014 This book could save you 1 million OK maybe not but some school districts have spent that much defending themselves and not always successfully in First Amendment lawsuits brought by students and their parents First Amendment litigation is on the rise across the nation and as any principal who has sat through a deposition in one of those cases can tell you the raw emotions and zealous anger that fuels such disputes can become a massive distraction from your real job of running a school The Oldest Rule is a comprehensive examination of the different First Amendment issues involving students that public school administrators and attorneys are increasingly facing on daily basis We will look at such topics as school prayer dress codes student threats and cyberbullying the distribution of literature the use of public facilities by outside groups the celebration of religious holidays and the rise of esoteric religions and their impact in the public schools Written by Chris Gilbert an attorney with over twenty one years experience advising and representing school districts big and small urban and rural this book combines discussions of the legal standards and key case decisions with practical advice and hypotheticals      Making Failure Pay Jill P. Koyama, 2010-08-15 A little discussed aspect of the No Child Left Behind Act NCLB is a mandate that requires failing schools to hire after school tutoring companies the largest of which are private for profit corporations and to pay them with federal funds Making Failure Pay takes a hard look at the implications of this new blurring of the boundaries between government schools and commerce in New York City the country's largest school district As Jill P Koyama explains in this revelatory book NCLB a federally legislated state regulated district administered and school applied policy explicitly legitimizes giving private organizations significant roles in public education Based on her three years of ethnographic fieldwork Koyama finds that the results are political problematic and highly profitable Bringing to light these unproven unregulated private companies almost invisible partnership with the government Making Failure Pay lays bare the unintended consequences of federal efforts to eliminate school failure not the least of which is more failure     Creating an Inclusive School Climate Tamika P. La Salle-Finley, 2023-07-25 Creating an Inclusive School Climate introduces school psychology stakeholders to a wealth of foundations individualized experiences and school improvement efforts intended to bolster the outcomes of our most vulnerable learners As student populations grow increasingly diverse sociocultural variables have never been more important to supporting school climate Using an original cultural ecological framework this book builds on the experiences of historically underrepresented and oppressed youth to foster a socially just strengths based perspective for implementing school improvement efforts within multi tiered systems Faculty graduate students researchers and professionals in the field will come away with a conceptually and methodologically sound understanding of the interrelationships between personal characteristics culture ecological contexts and school climate
