10. Journal of American Studies is a leading international literature journal, covering contemporary American studies and publishing new research on the past. The magazine also features a regularly scheduled political commentary. Its pages feature a range of topics, from US history, race, gender, and social movements to international relations and global studies. Issues of the journal are published online.

This essay and the paragraph to come, all under continuous double-blind, computer-graded automatic scoring conditions, were read independently, either by a pool of 100 readers or the same 100 readers at three times, once before, during, and after the training period. Independent grading conditions, as well as the single reading condition, have been demonstrated to be the most reliable measurement of fluency.
