Scenarios For Correctional Officers:

Federal Canadian Correctional Officer Training Rosemary Ricciardelli, 2025-02-13 The volume uses an ethnographical approach to examine all three stages of the Correctional Services Canada's federal Correctional Officer Training Program offered for recruited individuals. It presents how officers are socialized, trained, and prepared or not prepared through training. This volume reveals the content and context of the training program, the role of values and ethics, the socialization process, the co-response model, the challenges of discretion, the gendered space, and the lessons of training. The ethnographic data is based on full immersion in uniform living in dorm but also includes thematic analysis of content, field notes, and reflection. It features recommendations of international value for correctional officer training and identifies context and content needs. This monograph is ideal for graduate students and researchers interested in correctional services, officer training, and prison society.

Wasted Honor 2 Carl R. ToersBijns, 2010-07-20 In reality prisons resemble small communities where the warden is the mayor of a small town and the unit deputy wardens serve as council members As soon as you come to realize this background is very much like a miniature restricted adaptation of our free societies you will understand the roles we play The same responsibilities outside in the free world apply inside our prisons Tools formalized to be available to administrators inside the prison consist of state statutes and policies and procedures that may be used to manage events which under the existing negative circumstances of a potentially hazardous work living environment This potential of danger may eventually lead to the use of force allowable by law that range from non lethal force to the use of deadly or lethal force depending on the severity of the situation at hand Thus when the comparison is finished inside of the prison world we retain the basics of water food shelter clothing and civility to a degree where these conditions resemblance limited and warped minded kindness compassion respect politeness and cooperation with each other to co exist Although there is no doubt of the correctional employees boldness to brag about the job at times it has been established the less said in public the better off we are explaining what we do This book is merely a reconstruction of events as they occurred and handled Candidly written the author tries to show part of a story as they were gleaned from his own eyes and his own mind Regardless of what anyone else may think judge or conclude to be truthful or untruthful this is his own story In other words it is purely personal from his point of view with a touch of reality to bring forth the issue at hand Written in fiction and non fiction this book demonstrates logical and illogical decision making as well as sound correctional best practices and suggestions to make it better place to work and function

Weapons Under International Human Rights Law Stuart Casey-Maslen, 2014-01-23 This book focuses on how human rights would regulate non lethal weapons through the growing interplay between humanitarian law and human rights law
