Co-opting Culture Garrick B. Harden, Robert Carley, 2009-06-16 Co-opting Culture Culture and Power in Sociology and Cultural Studies represents a collection of new scholarship on culture from the social sciences and from work done under the rubric of cultural studies Working from the idea that Sociology and Cultural Studies have developed distinct and valuable toolkits for understanding culture the editors have brought together a collection of essays that address the ways in which the cultures around race sex and gender are mediated through or intersect with politics society and economy Some essays deal directly with the theoretical nature of this mediation while others adopt these theoretical approaches to investigate specific cultural objects or communities In doing so these essays call attention to the particularities of form that constitute a kind of cultural logic around the objects under consideration Taking Philanthropy Seriously William Damon, Susan

Bowman, Jon Wilcox, 2021-09-07 Well meaning Westerners want to find ways to help the less fortunate Today many are not just volunteering abroad and donating to international nonprofits but also advancing innovations and launching projects that aim to be socially transformative However often these activities are not efficient ways of helping others and too many projects cause more harm than good Reimagining Global Philanthropy shares the journey of a conservative banker and a progressive professor to find a better way forward Kirk S Bowman and Jon R Wilcox explain the boom in the global compassion industry revealing the incentives that produce inefficient practices and poor outcomes Instead of supporting start up projects with long shot hopes for success they argue we can dramatically improve results by empowering local leaders Applying lessons from the success of community banks Bowman and Wilcox develop and implement a new model that significantly raises philanthropic efficacy Their straightforward and rigorously tested approach calls for community members to take the lead while outside partners play a supporting role Bowman and Wilcox recount how they tested the model in Brazil demonstrating the value of giving people in marginalized communities the opportunity to innovate In a time of widespread social reckoning this book shows how global philanthropy can confront its blind spots and failures in order to achieve truly transformative outcomes Readers can access five of the documentary films discussed in the book on a companion website In addition to the films chapter discussion questions and other supplemental materials are also available at the site
