Politics and International Relations in Eurasia Stylianos A. Sotiriou, 2019-03-28 Eurasia has long been characterized by intense competition among populations and among States The collapse of the Soviet Union constituted a critical juncture in the region's course since informal and formal norms subsided giving rise to a hardly regulated socio political environment where survival and security considerations ranked atop In this context populations first and foremost sought to have their existence guaranteed within nation states While in most cases that transition was accomplished without major impediments in the cases of Moldova Ukraine Georgia and Azerbaijan major challenges have been encountered leaving their mark deep in the post soviet course of the newly independent republics Moldova has been rattled by the conflict in Transdnistria Ukraine by the conflict in Crimea Georgia by the conflict in South Ossetia and Abkhazia and Azerbaijan by the conflict in Nagorno Karabakh In fact these conflicts have been classified as frozen conflicts given their unsettled nature and the smoldering fire between opposing populations within the respective republics This intense competition however has not been constrained only to the domestic level and only to the issue of frozen conflicts Eurasia's energy prospects have also been the cause of a constant power struggle among the States of the region With the Caspian Sea to constitute a rich in natural resources hub a clash of interests has taken place among the littoral States Moreover this competition has acquired a much broader geopolitical dimension extending to Eurasia s two ends the European Union and China As a result Eurasia s underbelly has become an area where the maximization of power figures as the best guarantee of survival and security in a fully unregulated environment Taken together frozen conflicts domestic level and energy politics international level stand out as the two main features of Eurasia both unfolding in comparable conditions Therefore the book presents them as a two level game aiming at offering better substantiated explanations that draw on the very fundamentals of political science and at building a bridge of communication between the two levels that allows for well informed and widely applicable policy implications

The First Atomic Bomb Jim Mangi,2022-06-20 While German and Japanese scientists also labored unsuccessfully to create an atomic bomb by the summer of 1945 the American led team was ready to test its first weapon As the clock ticked down to the detonation time of 05 30 hours on 16 July 1945 the nervous team of technicians and scientists waited ten miles away from Ground Zero deep in the New Mexico desert No one knew how powerful the explosion would be or whether even at such a distance they would be safe from the blast Even so some chose to observe the detonation from a point four miles nearer at the control bunker but then no one was even sure that the bomb would work What if that is actually what happened Under schedule pressure from the White House the scientists assembled the device in part with tape and tissue paper knowing some components were flawed These are verifiable facts It means that as many of those who gathered in the New Mexico desert feared at the time the bomb might not have worked during that first test In The First Atomic Bomb Jim Mangi explores what might happened in the event that the world s first atomic bomb had not been ready for use when it was How would this have affected the end of the war in the Pacific and indeed the Second World War as a whole World War II. Emperor Hirohito's armed forces have battled on. When might Colonel Paul W Tibbets at the controls of his Boeing B 29 Superfortress Enola Gay have then made his historic flight over Hiroshima and would that city even have remained the target? How would Stalin and the Soviets have reacted to such developments and how would this have played out in the post war world?

Capoeira, Mobility, and Tourism Sergio González Varela, 2019-05-22 In Capoeira Mobility and Tourism: Preserving an Afro Brazilian Tradition in a Globalized World Sergio González Varela examines the mobility of capoeira leaders and practitioners. He analyzes their motivations and spirituality as well as their ability to reconfigure social practices. Varela draws on tourism mobilities, multisited ethnography, global networks, heritage, and the anthropology of ritual and religion in order to stress the commitment, dedication, and value that international practitioners bring to capoeira. US Economic Aid in Egypt Dina Jadallah, 2016-01-27 Economic aid is one of the cornerstones of the Egyptian American relationship and plays a significant role in promoting US policy objectives in the Middle East. Focusing on the latter half of Hosni Mubarak's rule, Dina Jadallah argues that through its aid policy, the US has attempted to use a reforming and democratising narrative to transform Egypt into a stable market democracy that would be aligned with US interests in the region. This aim has been pursued in conjunction with one that promoted a comprehensive warm peace with Israel. By highlighting the opposition within Egypt to US aid, Jadallah analyses the key issues that came to the fore during the 2010-11 protests in the country and led to the downfall of Mubarak. Extending her analysis into the post-revolutionary period, the author provides interviews with regime insiders and prominent critics inside state institutions and outside who actively challenged the regime. This enables her to assess the different perceptions of US aid both under Mubarak and in the current political situation, contributing to an incisive analysis of modern Egypt and its relations with its superpower ally in the region.

NATO Yonah Alexander, Richard Prosen, 2015-08-15 The purpose of NATO: From Regional to Global Security Provider is to provide a comprehensive analysis of the Alliance's new vision, the new Strategic Concept, and common security impact associated tasks to be undertaken within a short and longer term time horizon. The book serves as a relevant and timely study of the most pressing issues facing NATO today, including recent lessons gained. It provides recommendations for consideration and further discussion, i.e. the what and the how, regarding future policy options for the North Atlantic Alliance. The intended audience includes international security policy makers, government officials, elected leaders, academics, interested professionals, civil society, and members of the public. Specifically, the book focuses on six topic areas: Part I, the Introduction, relates to conceptual and organizational changes, membership expansion, and enlargement. Part II consists of emerging security challenges, including terrorism, piracy, homeland threats, cyber defense, and information warfare, energy security, non-proliferation, and countering WMD. Part III incorporates national and regional challenges, such as the Balkans, Iraq, Afghanistan, Pakistan, the Horn of Africa, North Africa, and the Middle East. Part IV deals with military and non-military assets. It integrates capability development, burden sharing, common funding ballistic missile defenses and the phased adaptive approach non strategic nuclear weapons and a broad based comprehensive approach to security Part V covers multifaceted collaborative relationships between NATO and various governmental inter governmental and non governmental bodies This section incorporates outreach and engagement with Russia India Pakistan and China as well as with other non NATO countries the Mediterranean Dialogue MD and the Istanbul Cooperation Initiative ICI Formal and informal linkages with the EU OSCE and the UN are also essential features of such a cooperative activity Additionally the expanding participation of civil society and growing involvement of new key NATO interlocutors e g NGOs academics have created new international partnering opportunities as a means of bolstering global security through innovative public private partnerships Part VI includes a Summary and Conclusions

Wallace's Dialects Mary Shapiro,2020-05-14 Mary Shapiro explores the use of regional and ethnic dialects in the works of David Foster Wallace not just as a device used to add realism to dialogue but as a vehicle for important social commentary about the role language plays in our daily lives how we express personal identity and how we navigate social relationships Wallace s Dialects straddles the fields of linguistic criticism and folk linguistics considering which linguistic variables of Jewish American English African American English Midwestern Southern and Boston regional dialects were salient enough for Wallace to represent and how he showed the intersectionality of these with gender and social class Wallace s own use of language is examined with respect to how it encodes his identity as a white male economically privileged Midwesterner while also foregrounding characteristic and distinctive idiolect features that allowed him to connect to readers across implied social boundaries

Women's Work Jennifer Moore,2025-03-11 When women have full socioeconomic citizenship as well as equitable and respectful partnerships with men transformative justice can be sustained in postconflict societies In Women s Work Jennifer Moore presents a reimaged theory of peacebuilding and transformative justice based on the experiences and insights of women farmers and microentrepreneurs who lived through protracted civil conflicts drawing on seven years of interviews with women activists across ten communities five in the Acholi region of Northern Uganda and five in the Moyamba and Koinadugu Districts of Sierra Leone Despite the important differences between the preconflict and conflict histories and demographics of the two countries Moore finds commonalities in the practical yet visionary approaches to community life emerging from the core values daily activities and long range goals shared by rural cooperative members in both regions Collective survival communal healing and conflict resolution define the rhythm of these women s daily lives as they go about building peace piecemeal They reject punitive retribution models and demand instead a peacebuilding model that advocates for advances in material well being the acknowledgment of state accountability for community suffering and reconciliation and restoration of community networks But most important Moore amplifies these women s voices when they insist that legal equality for women and healthy partnerships between women and men are also essential components to enduring transformation of their societies Moore theorizes what peacebuilding look like if it were modeled on these women led matriarchically structured communities that proved not only to be effective at holding governments accountable but also to have the capacity to feed their people and revitalize their local economies Women s Work shows that when women have full socioeconomic citizenship as well as equitable and respectful partnerships with men transformative justice can be sustained through the arts of collective livelihood violence free conflict management and celebration Feminist Conservation Merrill Baker-Medard,2024-11-26 How access to and control over marine resources in Madagascar are negotiated and the inextricable link between equity and sustainability As marine conservation becomes an increasingly urgent issue around the world there is an equally critical need to understand the ways different conservation interventions attend to or exacerbate social inequality This book explores the origins of a conservation agenda in Madagascar and the consequences of its neglect of gender Drawing on interviews ecological and social surveys archival research and several years of living with fishers in Madagascar Merrill Baker M dard examines how access to and control over marine resources are negotiated from fishing villages to the conference rooms of international meetings Her intersectional approach bridges conservation science gender studies and human geography to advance the idea that equity and sustainability are inextricably linked and that practices of reciprocity accountability and care are foundational to their achievement The Chora of Metaponto 7 Joseph Coleman Carter,Keith Swift,2018-02-14 The seventh volume in the Institute of Classical Archaeology s series on the rural countryside chora of Metaponto is a study of the Greek sanctuary at Pantanello The site is the first Greek rural sanctuary in southern Italy that has been fully excavated and exhaustively documented Its evidence a massive array of distinctive structural remains and 30 000 plus artifacts and ecofacts offers unparalleled insights into the development of extra urban cults in Magna Graecia from the seventh to the fourth centuries BC and the initiation rites that took place within the cults Of particular interest are the analyses of the well preserved botanical and faunal material which present the fullest record yet of Greek rural sacrificial offerings crops and the natural environment of southern Italy and the Greek world Excavations from 1974 to 2008 revealed three major phases of the sanctuary ranging from the Archaic to Early Hellenistic periods The structures include a natural spring as the earliest locus of the cult an artificial stream collecting basin for the spring s outflow Archaic and fourth century BC structures for ritual dining and other cult activities tantalizing evidence of a Late Archaic Doric temple atop the hill and a farmhouse and tile factory that postdate the sanctuary s destruction The extensive catalogs of material and special studies provide an invaluable opportunity to study the development of Greek material culture between the seventh and third centuries BC with particular emphasis on votive pottery and figurative terracotta plaques Education for people and the planet: Creating sustainable futures for all UNESCO,2016-09-12 This edition of the Global Education Monitoring Report GEM Report is the first in a series that will assess the progress of education under the new Sustainable Development Goals SDGs
