Juta's manual of nursing Nelouise Geyer, Sophie Mataniele Mogotlane, Anne Young, 2009-02 Completely updated to include the latest developments in the field of Nursing Science this second edition covers the topics required for both Fundamental and General Nursing Science this makes it suitable for the categories of Nursing Auxiliary Staff Nurse and for the fundamentals of nursing for Professional Nurses The manual has a strong community based focus It introduces the nurse to the fundamentals of nursing and is extremely practical encouraging problem solving both in the clinic and in the community Each chapter has tutorial type questions to stimulate discussion and personal research Key Features This updated edition includes a chapter on the important topic of Informatics The text is outcomes based so that students understand the focus of each chapter Numerous line drawings expand on difficult concepts It covers the new curriculum therefore lecturers can be assured the book will meet their needs Summaries of key ethical and legal considerations in each chapter highlight these important aspects The content encourages the development of problem solving skills so that the nurse can deal with problems as they arise in the community clinic environment Self assessment and discussion topics throughout the text test what has been learnt Hospital and Nursing Year Book of Southern Africa, 1959 South African Human Sciences Research Networking Directory, 1996 Working with indigenous knowledge Fhumulani M. Mulaudzi, Rachel T. Lebesse, 2022 The aim of the book is to assist both local and international scholars in articulating the scholarly discourse on indigenous health attitudes practices and experiences The indigenous lens that was used to generate and disseminate indigenous knowledge in this book will strengthen indigenous scholarship thus making it accessible to a wider audience In addition the information shared in this book will add value for scholars and assist them with the indigenous knowledge needed to address sustainable development goals This book is timely and topical as the discourse on the decolonisation of the curriculum is widely debated in the higher education space The discourse on the scholarship of indigenous knowledge as the tacit local knowledge that stems from cultural practices within communities has not been well articulated in the current health science education milieu Indigenous knowledge has remained overlooked and undermined for a very long time and the information remains untapped in local communities The scholars who conducted the research on which this book is based unearthed a wealth of knowledge which was tacit in nature and translated it into implicit knowledge that can be documented and shared with other scholars globally This knowledge will assist health care scholars in benefiting from knowledge practices and cultural beliefs that will assist them in health care planning teaching evidence based practice and further research The Role of Nonpharmacological Approaches to Pain Management National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Health and Medicine Division, Board on Global Health, Board on Health Sciences Policy, Global Forum on Innovation in Health Professional Education, Forum on Neuroscience and Nervous System Disorders, 2019-06-23 Pain is a leading cause of disability globally The dramatic increase in opioid prescriptions within the past decade in the United States has contributed to the opioid epidemic the country currently faces magnifying the need for longer term solutions to treat pain The substantial burden of pain and the ongoing opioid crisis have attracted increased attention in medical and public policy communities resulting in a revolution in thinking about how pain is managed This new thinking acknowledges the complexity and biopsychosocial nature of the pain experience and the need for multifaceted pain management approaches with both pharmacological and nonpharmacological therapies The magnitude and urgency of the twin problems of chronic pain and opioid addiction combined with the changing landscape of pain management prompted the National Academies of Sciences Engineering and Medicine to convene a workshop on December 4 5 2018 in Washington DC The workshop brought together a diverse group of stakeholders to discuss the current status of nonpharmacological approaches to pain management gaps and future directions This publication summarizes the presentations and discussions from the workshop

World of Heart Attack Gift Jerry Baloyi, 2015-12-19 This book teaches you how to be honest to yourself and how to handle the truth about your past and you will learn that everything that is happening in your life you have to take it seriously because he who loves glass without G takes away L and that is he and you must learn to correct the corrections that has been corrected by the corrector before the corrector corrects them Include God in your life as hes the one who created heaven and earth

Maternal and Newborn Care Joanita De Kock, Christa Van der Walt, 2004 The midwife s role is examined in the community and family health context in this handbook on effective maternal and newborn care for midwives and other healthcare providers The skills competencies and knowledge required to make informed decisions about neo and postnatal care are covered including anatomy and the physiology of reproduction high risk pregnancies and labor and birth Theoretical and practical issues illuminate a midwife's role in the prevention of illness in mothers and babies with attention to the unique challenges of midwifery in developing nations. Insights from current research studies and critical questions about midwife practice will help those new to health care understand the unique challenges of this form of health service delivery.

Mapping Psychopathology with fMRI and Effective Connectivity Analysis Baojuan Li, Adeel Razi, Karl J. Friston, 2017-06-22

There is a growing appreciation that many psychiatric and neurological conditions can be understood as functional disconnection syndromes as reflected in aberrant functional integration and synaptic connectivity. This Research Topic considers recent advances in understanding psychopathology in terms of aberrant effective connectivity as measured noninvasively using functional magnetic resonance imaging (fMRI). Recently there has been increasing interest in inferring directed connectivity (effective connectivity) from fMRI data. Effective connectivity refers to the influence that one neural system exerts over another and quantifies the directed coupling among brain regions and how they change with pathophysiology. Compared to functional connectivity, effective connectivity allows one to understand how brain regions interact with each other in terms of context-sensitive changes and directed coupling and therefore may provide mechanistic insights into the neural basis of psychopathology. Established models of effective connectivity include psychophysiological interaction (PPI), structural equation modeling (SEM), and dynamic causal modelling (DCM). DCM is unique because it explicitly models the interaction among brain regions in terms of latent neuronal activity. Moreover, recent advances in DCM such as stochastic and spectral DCM make it possible to characterize the interaction between different brain regions both at rest and during a cognitive task.
