The Future Agenda for Internationalization in Higher Education Douglas Proctor,Laura E. around the world Key topics covered include the current state of research and analysis on the internationalization of higher education aspects of internationalization and international activities which have not previously been explored or have limited current exposure how research into internationalization is conducted showcasing innovative methodological practices a synthesis of common themes and differences in relation to the future agenda of topics modes and contexts for internationalization an identification of key areas for future research A thoughtful guide for considering the many possible directions ahead for internationalization in higher education The Future Agenda for Internationalization in Higher Education is essential reading for academic researchers and graduate students as well as international education practitioners and leaders keen to make sense of evolving trends in this field Colonizing Russia's Promised Land Aileen E.

Friesen,2020-01-29 The movement of millions of settlers to Siberia in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries marked one of the most ambitious undertakings pursued by the tsarist state Colonizing Russia's Promised Land examines how Russian Orthodoxy acted as a basic building block for constructing Russian settler communities in current day southern Siberia and northern Kazakhstan Russian state officials aspired to lay claim to land that was politically under their authority but remained culturally unfamiliar By exploring the formation and evolution of Omsk diocese a settlement mission Colonizing Russia's Promised Land reveals how the migration of settlers expanded the role of Orthodoxy as a cultural force in transforming Russia's imperial periphery by russifying the land and marginalizing the Indigenous Kazakh population In the first study exploring the role of Orthodoxy in settler colonialism Aileen Friesen shows how settlers clergymen and state officials viewed the recreation of Orthodox parish life as practised in European Russia as fundamental to the establishment of settler communities and to the success of colonization Friesen uniquely gives peasant settlers a voice in this discussion as they expressed their religious aspirations and fears to priests and tsarist officials Despite this agreement tensions existed not only among settlers but also within the Orthodox Church as these groups struggled to define what constituted the Russian Orthodox faith and culture The Russian Far East and Pacific Asia M. J. Bradshaw,2013-07-04 This major study assesses prospects for economic recovery in the Russian Far East evaluating foreign trade and investment political and economic forces patterns of resource supply and needs in Pacific Asia and potential competitors It concludes that this unfulfilled potential has as much to do with conditions in Russia as the downturn caused by the Asian crisis Russia's Turn to the East Helge Blakkisrud,Elana Wilson Rowe,2017-12-29 This book is open access under a CC BY license This book explores if and how Russian policies towards the Far East region of the country and East Asia more broadly have changed since the onset of the Ukraine crisis and Russia's annexation of Crimea Following the 2014 annexation and the subsequent enactment of a sanctions regime against the country the Kremlin has emphasized the eastern vector in its external relations But to what extent has Russia's pivot to the East intensified or changed in nature domestically and internationally since the onset of the current crisis in relations with the West Rather than taking the declared pivot as a fact and exploring the consequences of it the contributors to this volume explore whether a pivot has indeed happened or if what we see today is the continuation of longer duration trends concerns and ambitions

Russia's Own Orient Vera Tolz, 2011-02-10 Russia's own Orient examines how intellectuals in early twentieth century Russia offered a new and radical critique of the ways in which Oriental cultures were understood at the time Out of the ferment of revolution and war a group of scholars in St Petersburg articulated fresh ideas about the relationship between power and knowledge and about Europe and Asia as mere political and cultural constructs Their ideas anticipated the work of Edward Said and post colonial scholarship by half a century The similarities between the two groups were in fact genealogical Said was indebted via Arab intellectuals of the 1960s who studied in the Soviet Union to the revisionist ideas of Russian Orientologists of the fin de siècle But why did this body of Russian scholarship of the early twentieth century turn out to be so innovative Should we agree with a popular claim of the Russian elites about their country's particular affinity with the Orient There is no single answer to this question The early twentieth century was a period when all over Europe a fascination with things Oriental engendered the questioning of many nineteenth century assumptions and prejudices In that sense the revisionism of Russian Orientologists was part of a pan European trend And yet Tolz also argues that a set of political social and cultural factors which were specific to Russia allowed its imperial scholars to engage in an unusual dialogue with representatives of the empire's non European minorities It is together that they were able to articulate a powerful long lasting critique of modern imperialism and colonialism and to shape ethnic politics in Russia across the divide of the 1917 revolutions

Screening Soviet Nationalities Oksana Sarkisova, 2016-11-30 Filmmakers in the early decades of the Soviet Union sought to create a cinematic map of the new state by portraying its land and peoples on screen Such films created blueprints of the Soviet domain's scenic cultural and ethnographic perimeters and brought together in many ways disparate nations under one umbrella Categorized as kulturfilms they served as experimental grounds for developing the cinematic formulae of a multiethnic multinational Soviet identity Screening Soviet Nationalities examines the non fictional representations of Soviet borderlands from the Far North to the Northern Caucasus and Central Asia between 1925-1940 Beginning with Dziga Vertov and his vision of the Soviet space as a unified multinational mosaic Oksana Sarkisova rediscovers films by Vladimir Erofeev Vladimir Shneiderov Alexander Litvinov Mikhail Slutskii Amo Bek Nazarov Mikhail Kalatozov Roman Karmen and other filmmakers who helped construct an image of Soviet ethnic diversity and left behind a lasting visual legacy The book contributes to our understanding of changing ethnographic conventions of representation looks at studies of diversity despite the homogenising ambitions of the Soviet project and reexamines methods of blending reality and fiction as part of both ideological and educational agendas Using a wealth of unexplored archival evidence from the Russian State Documentary Film and Photo Archive RGAKFD as well as the Gosfilmofond state film archive Sarkisova examines constructions of exoticism backwardness and Soviet driven modernity through these remarkable and underexplored historical travelogues

Fascism in Manchuria Susanne Hohler, 2016-12-02 The history of the Russian fascist movement in Harbin Manchuria during the 1930s has become increasingly relevant to our understanding of modern Russia As a railway junction and an important centre of the Jewish Diaspora the city of Harbin became a focus of Russian emigration to Manchuria in the early 1930s partly because of its proximity to the resource rich Manchurian plains In this multicultural and cosmopolitan setting the first Russian fascist groups were established Based on an analysis of Russian civil society Fascism in Manchuria sheds light on the impact of the newly founded All Russian Fascist Party on the Russian emigre community employing the concept of dark civil society Suzanne Hohler demonstrates how fascist involvement in local civil society increasingly determined public opinion examining the power of the military organizations the symbols and style of the fascist organizations the cult of the leader as well as the public relations activities of the fascist organizations and of the so called Russian Club In this context the book provides not only insights into the history and ideology of the far eastern branch of Russian fascism and its transnational connections but also touches upon a variety of issues of daily life in the city issues such as education drug addiction and hooliganism among Russian youth the local YMCA the famous Kaspe kidnapping and the rise of anti Semitism Fascist literature from Harbin is being republished in today s Russia and Fascism in Manchuria provides an important historical context for the thinking and motives which drive the Russian right Encyclopedia of Stateless
