Schilizzi,Ronald D. Ekers,Peter E. Dewdney,Philip Crosby,2024-06-21 The Square Kilometre Array SKA is a grand vision project to build the most sensitive radio telescope in the world This open access book tells the story of its development a story of transformational science innovative engineering and global collaboration Its journey has been long and complex reflecting the many issues faced in creating an affordable design choosing a site and developing a viable global organisation starting from a simple working group of far sighted and persistent astronomers in 1993 The book begins with the emergence of the SKA concept and the first working group It traces the development of global scientific and engineering collaborations and ever more comprehensive governance structures for the SKA the involvement and roles of funding agencies and governments and the long political site selection process This occurred alongside efforts to overcome technical barriers and the difficult process of selecting technology It follows these themes up to the point in 2012 when the project had just transitioned from a collaboration to a legal entity and the dual site decision was made a pivotal moment when it was clear the SKA arrays would be built The book is based on the authors personal experience at the leading edge of the project over many years as well as access to hitherto unpublished material from project archives interviews and presentations from many of the key players at a specially convened conference It has a Foreword written by John Womersley former Chair of the Agencies SKA Group and SKA Organisation Board The book is intended for an audience ranging from funding agencies and governments involved in major research infrastructures to historians of science and professional researchers studying mega projects to the astronomy and physics communities in general and interested lay readers
