

Reflection Essay

This semester in English 101 I have learned a bountiful amount of tips to help my writing techniques. In high school I always thought of myself as a fairly good writer. The one thing I think I lacked was supporting details. This course has helped me to always think when I make a statement. After my statement I make sure to put extra input or additional definitions to make what I am saying crystal clear. Also, in this course, I have learned how to use rhetoric in my papers. Different rhetoric techniques like ethos, logos, and pathos have made some of my pieces so much better.

Ethos, pathos, and logos were all new to me. Learning about the three has taught me a couple of things. It has taught me different ways to reach different audiences. Sometimes getting to an audience with emotion will do the trick, but in other situations a more factual approach works. Having this new knowledge of the different types of ways to catch the audience's attention has and will in the future improve my writing.

Before this course I was completely unaware of how to write a formal argument. Now I feel that I have the knowledge and the experience to write a very successful argument. I felt confident in writing my final project due to all of the information I have gained from this course.

The readings that we did in class were extremely insightful as well as interesting. They taught me to see different all different groups of people in totally different ways than what might be expected. The readings opened my eyes and allowed me to see the world in different

Reflective Essay English 101:

Crossing Divides Bruce Horner, Elliot Tetreault, 2017-06-01 Translingualism perceives the boundaries between languages as unstable and permeable this creates a complex challenge for writing pedagogy Writers shift actively among rhetorical strategies from multiple languages sometimes importing lexical or discursal tropes from one language into another to introduce an effect solve a problem or construct an identity How to accommodate this reality while answering the charge to teach the conventions of one language can be a vexing problem for teachers Crossing Divides offers diverse perspectives from leading scholars on the design and implementation of translingual writing pedagogies and programs The volume is divided into four parts Part 1 outlines methods of theorizing translinguality in writing and teaching Part 2 offers three accounts of translingual approaches to the teaching of writing in private and public colleges and universities in China Korea and the United States In Part 3 contributors from four US institutions describe the challenges and strategies involved in designing and implementing a writing curriculum with a translingual approach Finally in Part 4 three scholars respond to the case studies and arguments of the preceding chapters and suggest ways in which writing teachers scholars and program administrators can develop translingual approaches within their own pedagogical settings Illustrated with concrete examples of teachers and program directors efforts in a variety of settings as well as nuanced responses to these initiatives from eminent scholars of language difference in writing Crossing Divides offers groundbreaking insight into translingual writing theory practice and reflection Contributors Sara Alvarez Patricia Bizzell Suresh Canagarajah Dylan Dryer Chris Gallagher Juan Guerra Asao B Inoue William Lalicker Thomas Lavelle Eunjeong Lee Jerry Lee Katie Malcolm Kate Mangelsdorf Paige Mitchell Matt Noonan Shakil Rabbi Ann Shivers McNair Christine M Tardy Economies of Writing Bruce Horner, Brice Nordquist, Susan M. Ryan, 2017-03-01 Economies of Writing advances scholarship on political economies of writing and writing instruction considering them in terms of course subject pedagogy technology and social practice Taking the economic as a necessary point of departure and contention for the field the collection insists that writing concerns are inevitably participants in political markets in their consideration of forms of valuation production and circulation of knowledge with labor and with capital Approaching the economic as plural contingent and political chapters explore complex forces shaping the production and valuation of literacies languages identities and institutions and consider their implications for composition scholarship teaching administration and public rhetorics Chapters engage a range of issues including knowledge transfer cyberpublics graduate writing courses and internationalized web domains Economies of Writing challenges dominant ideologies of writing writing skills writing assessment language writing technology and public rhetoric by revealing the complex and shifting valuations of writing practices as they circulate within and across different economies The volume is a significant contribution to rhetoric and composition s understanding of and ways to address its seemingly perennial unease about its own work Contributors Anis Bawarshi Deborah Brandt Jenn Fishman T R Johnson Jay Jordan Kacie Kiser Steve
