

REFLECTIVE JOURNAL EXAMPLE FOR STUDENT TEACHERS

Anyone who thinks the teaching profession is easy, let's try the next exercise.

Take time in one day and make 5 speeches, each of which should be completed 45 minutes, about anything that you personally understand. Bear in mind that your audience needs to be interested and motivated to attention, listening, understanding, and adopting this speech. Of course, you should also think of several interesting tasks and activities that will encourage your audience to participate and interact.

Tomorrow, get up and dress up and take the city 30 minutes to an hour, go home, turn on the TV and boost it. Stop standing in front of that TV and in 45 minutes tell that speech and everything you've prepared to speak louder than the TV. With time, gradually increase the TV (because student attention decreases and becomes more and more disinterested) and continues to speak louder than the TV. By the way, of course, you have to keep track of what's on the screen and the program you are watching. Whenever a household member passes, you answer all his questions and meet all his demands.

Of course, do not forget all that time to be comfortable and calm and have a smile on your face to contribute to a better atmosphere in the room.

After 45 minutes, take a break of 5 minutes, but then amplify the TV so you can enjoy your vacation in school. If possible, let your baby run a few times next to you or go to your brother or sister. You calmly and skillfully resolved this situation so everyone would be happy.

Then return the TV to the initial setting (still louder than usual), take your second prepared speech, assignments, and activities and repeat all in the next 45 minutes. Again the same rest of 5 minutes and again all over again, 45 minutes. It works 5 times in a row.

Then invite a neighbor to you, with whom you have a problem and spend 45 minutes with it, calmly and courteously resolving this problem, explaining why and why it came up and suggesting how to solve it efficiently.

When you're done, sit back in the car and drive around town 30 minutes to an hour. Go home, rest a little (wonder if you want to turn on the TV or have the power to play with your kids), then sit down and prepare 5 new talk for tomorrow. Repeat this exercise for 5 days in a row so tell me and tell if you still believe our job is easy.

Well, that is your professorship week without paperwork, excuses, writing annual, monthly and operational plans, education, planning, and everything else. Just a working week.

Unpacking the Loaded Teacher Matrix sj Miller, Linda Norris, 2007 What issues in English teacher education are sidestepped because they are too loaded to address What aren't we talking about when we discuss classroom management censorship standardized tests media literacy social justice issues the standards and technology What really matters to novices entering the profession The authors in this book wrestle with the disparities between preservice English teacher instruction and secondary school space as the two collide and describe the tools that preservice English teachers need to negotiate and navigate between theory and practice This book answers these questions and offers groundbreaking insights about liberatory pedagogy for how teacher educators can mentor preservice teachers on touchy issues providing them with tools to reach today's students

Fostering Reflective Teaching Practice in Pre-Service Education Djoub, Zineb, 2017-08-11 As with any industry the education sector often goes through frequent changes It is every educator's duty to keep up with these shifting requirements and alter their teaching style accordingly Fostering Reflective Teaching Practice in Pre-Service Education is an essential reference source that provides a detailed analysis of the most efficient and effective ways for teachers to adapt to changes in their industry Featuring relevant topics such as reflective teaching methodology lifelong learning programs pioneer service learning and technology integration in education this book is ideal for current educators future teachers academicians students and researchers that would like insight into the best practices for keeping up with the demanding changes in the education field

Supervising Student Teachers Alexander Cuenca, 2013-02-11 The student teaching experience is often considered one of the most influential aspects of teacher preparation Key in the success of student teaching is the university supervisor During the student teaching experience the university supervisor is mainly responsible for helping pre-service teachers relate university coursework with the situated experiences in schools However much like the various other spaces and places in teacher education facilitating teacher learning is an incredibly complex endeavor This edited volume addresses the complexities of supervising student teachers from three distinct vantage points First salient issues regarding the supervision of student teachers such as the preparation of novice supervisors negotiating power in the student teaching triad and the low status of clinical teacher education are examined Second different pedagogical frameworks for the work of supervision are provided such as care theory teacher education for democracy and social justice Finally future directions for field-based teacher education are discussed such as a call to reconsider where supervision takes place the necessity to develop a pedagogy of supervision 21st century trends facing clinical teacher education and the value added by university supervisors to teacher development Each of these chapters engage the supervision of student teachers through a mix of research theory and personal stories from the field As such this edited volume is designed for new supervisors veteran supervisors and supervision scholars

Developing Personal, Social and Moral Education through Physical Education Anthony Laker, 2002-01-04 Personal social and moral development through physical education and sport is a relatively under-researched area Most teaching concentrates on the performance aspect of physical education while the National Curriculum requires teachers to address a number of non-physical outcomes such as learning rules teamwork cooperation and competition This timely book redresses that balance by providing classroom practitioners and student teachers with practical advice and tried and tested suggestions for activities and strategies to help them use physical education as an effective vehicle for the all round personal development of the individual Tony Laker pays particular attention to curriculum development planning units of work and lesson planning considering different types of assessment and suggestions on which forms are most appropriate for measuring programme effectiveness and the personal development of pupils the role of the reflective practitioner and a framework within which teachers can reflect on their practice Through using an extensive range of diagrams photos and bulleted lists Laker makes this guide a concise and accessible read giving practitioners the opportunity to extend and develop their abilities in teaching this subject

Developing Reflective Practice J. John Loughran, 2002-11 This text presents a research study into the development of reflective practitioners in a pre service teacher education programme The teacher educator in the study modelled his own reflections on practice in the hope that it would help students to apply reflection to their own teaching The results of the author's research demonstrate that reflection on practice occurs in three distinct periods before anticipatory during contemporaneous and after retrospective a pedagogical experience The book concludes that when student teachers own learning situations both within their university coursework and their school experiences become the focus for their learning about teaching and learning their understanding of and practice in teaching is enhanced Routledge Library Editions: Education Mini-Set N Teachers & Teacher Education Research 13 vols Various, 2021-06-23 Dealing with all aspects of teacher education in the past 50 years the 13 books in this set originally published between 1969 and 1996 discuss how the education system in the UK has changed the impact of restructuring on teachers teacher expectations around the world and other important topics in the sociology of education and teacher research

Early Language Learning and Teacher Education Subhan Zein, Sue Garton, 2019-02-26 Language teacher education is widely identified as one of the most important areas that needs addressing in order to improve early language instruction yet research into teacher education for early language teachers remains relatively sparse This volume responds to this gap by compiling studies with diverse methodological tenets from a wide range of geographical and educational contexts around the world The volume aims to enhance understanding of early language teacher education as well as to address the need to prepare early language teachers and assist them in their professional development The chapters focus on the complexity of teacher learning innovations in mentoring and teacher supervision strategies in programme development and perceptions and knowledge and assessment in early language learning teacher education The volume offers comprehensive coverage of the field by addressing various aspects of teacher education in different languages The contributions highlight examples of research into current practice in the professional enhancement of early language learning teachers but with an emphasis on the implications for practitioners

Teachers Who Teach Teachers Tom Russell,Fred Korthagen,2013-09-13 This is a reflection on the education of teachers written by teacher educators who discuss features of their work and the challenges facing teacher education in the 1990s The book invites the reader to attempt similar analyses of personal practice and development in their own teaching The book deals with the personal development of both new and experienced teacher educators illustrating how strongly teacher educators are influenced by their visions and by the challenge to prove themselves in the university setting In addition the book examines the ways in which teacher educators have acted to promote their own professional development and study their own practices including writing as a tool for reflection a life history approach to self study as well as a study of educative relationships with others and the analysis of a personal return to the classroom Finally it takes a broader look at the professional development of teacher educators and offers a challenge to all teacher educators to consider the tension between rigour and relevance

Extraordinary Learning in the Workplace Janet P. Hafler,2011-01-04 The contributing authors of this multidisciplinary text agree that workplace learning truly is extraordinary when it is marked by structural congruence and a positive synergy among the intended and formal preparation of professionals that tacit learning occurs within the hidden curriculum and that the subsequent demands both formal and tacit are embedded in subsequent workplace settings Thus for this text these authors explore research and practice literature related to curriculum instruction and assessment of professionals learning in the workplace and the implications for best practices But what makes this book truly unique is that the authors examine that literature in the context of four professions education nursing medicine and clergy at the point of those professions wherein students are learning during the degree program stages of their education Extraordinary Learning in the Workplace is broken into four main sections Part I explores curriculum both formal and hidden Part II focuses on conceptions and theories of learning and instruction and is intended to inform the work of educators with regard to components of professional education that occur in the practice settings of the workplace Part III covers assessment using medicine as its example to argue that assessment has remained largely unchanged for years thus making the multiple choice questions tests introduced in the 1950s the de facto gold standard for quality assessment And Part IV focuses on the training of the instructors visiting the three key themes of relationships activities or tasks and work practices
