

Teaching is part of a life-long learning process. For effective teaching, teachers must be good learners. This certificate program in college teaching provided me with many opportunities to think about my teaching career. In this section of my teaching ePortfolio, I will answer several questions regarding teaching, ePortfolio, and the certificate program.

What was the most striking or surprising thing you learned about yourself and about teaching as you developed your ePortfolio?

Through the ePortfolio development process, I realized that teaching is one of the most difficult activities I will perform in my life. Knowing or understanding subjects does not necessarily mean I will be able to teach the subjects well. To enhance students' learning, I must create an appropriate learning environment through various teaching strategies and presentation methods. There is no single best solution; I should continuously try new things and improve my teaching skills.

Based on the materials you wrote, what will be your greatest strength as a teacher?

As I discussed in my teaching philosophy statement, I believe in the importance of repeated exposure to a subject. For "repeated exposure," I should prepare well-organized class materials so students can recall previously taught materials easily. My greatest strength as a teacher is my organization skill. I will prepare very organized lesson plans and slides for my classes.

In addition, I always like to explore new subjects – I am very flexible and will change my lesson plans if needed. I will continuously revise my teaching materials. This way, I can provide the most recent, updated information to students.

What will be your greatest challenge as a teacher?

Increasing students' engagement is the greatest challenge as a teacher, especially in the basic lower-level courses. Many students may take such basic introductory courses without strong motivation. As a student, grades are important, of course; however, I want to teach students that applying (or at least recalling) what they learned in their classes, even after college, is much more important than just focusing on class grades.

In addition, balancing between "be strict" and "be flexible" is also a great challenge for me. I want students to follow my policy, such as late work policy. However, I want to be flexible to meet students' needs and interests. Being too strict may damage students' interest and participation in the class, but being too flexible can also hurt students' engagement in the class. I should improve my teaching method to create a good teaching and learning environment.

How did the combination of workshops, experimental learning, assignment development, syllabi construction, and lesson plan creation lead to new understanding about teaching?

The combination of teaching workshops, teaching classes, class material development, and actual teaching provided a great opportunity to enhance my teaching skills. I was able to learn basic teaching principles from teaching classes, apply teaching principles in class material development and actual teaching, and learn new teaching methods and issues from teaching

Reflective Paper Template:

Business Design Thinking and Doing Angèle M. Beausoleil, 2022-01-24 This textbook aims to guide, instruct and inspire the next generation of innovation designers, managers and leaders. Building upon an evidence-based innovation development process, it introduces, explains and provides visual models and case examples of what Business Design is, how it is applied across sectors and organizations and its impact on decision making and value creation. Students will read and analyze design-led innovation business cases from across the globe, discover multi-disciplinary strategies from marketing to anthropology and practice applying a designer's toolkit to find, frame and solve business problems in contemporary ways. Throughout the book, students will break down the process of innovation and move from initiation to implementation, engage in iterative feedback loops and develop concrete plans for personal and professional collaboration and workplace application. For MBA and senior undergraduate students, this book offers a step-by-step and comprehensive reference guide to creative problem framing and solving inside and beyond the classroom. It integrates marketing principles and management frameworks with anthropological and design methods, reflecting the diverse and in-demand skills vital to tomorrow's workforce. For instructors, this book offers a way to confidently engage learners in the realm of design practices and strategies relevant to business decision making. The pedagogical framework along with a comprehensive suite of techniques and templates offers both novice and experienced teachers a step-by-step reference guide that facilitates skills development in creative problem framing and solving.

Don't Suspend Me! Jessica Djabrayan Hannigan, John E. Hannigan, 2016-06-17 Learn how alternative discipline methods can create long-term change. Suspensions don't work. They don't improve behavior and they don't address the social/emotional needs of students. There are better alternative discipline methods that can create positive, meaningful long-term changes in the behavior of challenging students. Aligned with educational law, Don't Suspend Me gives educators the tools they need to apply these alternative methods. Readers will find a toolkit with alternative strategies to use for the most common behavior challenges, case study examples and testimonials from educators in the field, worksheets and exercises for the major discipline incidents that occur in schools, answers to commonly asked questions.

Developing Certain Designs For Promoting Reflective Learning Practices At Secondary Level Dr. Asha O. S., Creating the Reflective Habit Michelle Lucas, 2023-06-12 Reflection is a critical skill which can enhance the quality of our professional and domestic lives. Yet in a world of busy-ness, reflective practice often falls to the bottom of the list. We are not alone in the struggle to use the pause button well. This book is here to help. The book offers a practical toolkit which shows you how to create a sustainable reflective habit. We begin by exploring the meaning and territory of reflection, drawing from the literature to provide context and understanding. The following chapters contain prompts and exercises which will appeal to different processing preferences. The intention throughout this book is firstly to show that reflection means so much more than journaling and secondly to encourage an appetite for experimentation that results in a desire to reflect on a regular and sustainable basis We invite you into an immersive experience playing with the multitude of reflective possibilities on offer It is only through repeated trial and error enlightenment and frustration that we will come to create our own reflective habit Written by a coach and coach supervisor this practical book is an invaluable resource for helping practitioners but will also be immensely helpful to anyone and everyone who wants to get their pause button in good working order The book also provides Learning Development professionals with a suite of tools and materials to help build the reflective practice skill set in their organisation

A Rhetoric of Reflection Kathleen Yancey, 2016-08-15 Reflection in writing studies is now entering a third generation Dating from the 1970s the first generation of reflection focused on identifying and describing internal cognitive processes assumed to be part of composing The second generation operating in both classroom and assessment scenes in the 1990s developed mechanisms for externalizing reflection making it visible and thus explicitly available to help writers Now a third generation of work in reflection is emerging As mapped by the contributors to A Rhetoric of Reflection this iteration of research and practice is taking up new questions in new sites of activity and with new theories It comprises attention to transfer of writing knowledge and practice teaching and assessment portfolios linguistic and cultural difference and various media including print and digital It conceptualizes conversation as a primary reflective medium both inside and outside the classroom and for individuals and collectives and articulates the role that different genres play in hosting reflection Perhaps most important in the work of this third generation is the identification and increasing appreciation of the epistemic value of reflection of its ability to help make new meanings and of its rhetorical power for both scholars and students Contributors Anne Beaufort Kara Taczak Liane Robertson Michael Neal Heather Ostman Cathy Leaker Bruce Horner Asao B Inoue Tyler Richmond J Elizabeth Clark Naomi Silver Christina Russell McDonald Pamela Flash Kevin Roozen Jeff Sommers Doug Hesse

Demystifying Critical Reflection Namala Tilakaratna, Eszter Szenes, 2024-01-24 Drawing on Legitimation Code Theory LCT this volume reveals the knowledge practices and language of critical reflection in a range of different subjects making clear how it can be taught and learned Critical thinking is widely held to be a key attribute required for successfully living learning and earning in modern societies Universities now list critical thinking as a key graduate quality and use critical reflection as a way of teaching students how to become reflective and ethical professionals Yet what critical reflection actually involves remains vague in research teaching practice and assessment Studies draw on LCT a fast growing framework for revealing the knowledge practices that enable educational success and the individual chapters focus on a diverse range of contexts across the disciplinary map including education science arts sociology and nursing The book further connects research and practice by presenting in depth analyses of critical reflection and providing practical insights into how LCT can be used to design pedagogic interventions The book offers a rich resource for both scholars and teachers who want to demystify critical reflection and prepare university students for the modern workplace

Course-Based Undergraduate Research Nancy H. Hensel, 2023-07-03 Co published with the Council on Undergraduate Research Undergraduate research has long been recognized as a high impact practice HIP but has unfortunately been offered only to juniors and seniors and to very few of them often in summer programs This book shows how to engage students in authentic research experiences built into the design of courses in the first two years thus making the experience available to a much greater number of students Research that is embedded in a course especially general education courses addresses the issue of how to expand undergraduate research to all students Research has shown that students who have early experiences in undergraduate research are more likely to pursue further research prior to and after graduation This is also an issue of social justice because it makes the benefits of undergraduate research available to students who must work during the academic year and in the summer It is widely accepted that the skills developed through undergraduate research help prepare students for their future careers The book addresses all aspects of the topic including What are appropriate expectations for research in the first two years How to design appropriate course based research for first and second year students How to mentor a class rather than individual students How students can disseminate the results of their research Possible citizen science projects appropriate for the first and second years Providing additional resources available to support course based research in the first two years Designed for faculty at four year and two year colleges and including examples from the sciences the social sciences and the humanities the strategies and methods described can be adapted to disciplines not specifically mentioned in the book Many faculty are hesitant to engage first and second year students in undergraduate research because they worry students don't know enough to conduct authentic research in their discipline because they worry about the time it will take to develop activities for these students and because they wonder how they can mentor a whole class of students doing research The authors have successfully dealt with these issues and provide examples of how it s done Resources in Education ,2000-10 Fully Integrated Data
