Reinventing The Curriculum New Trends In Curriculum Policy And Practice:

Reinventing the Curriculum Mark Priestley, Gert Biesta, 2013-06-20 Scotland's Curriculum for Excellence offers an example of a different approach to national curriculum development. It combines what are claimed to be the best features of top down and bottom up approaches to curriculum development and provides an indication of the broad qualities that school education should promote rather than a detailed description of curriculum content. Advocates of the approach argue that it provides central guidance for schools and maintains national standards whilst at the same time allowing schools and teachers the flexibility to take account of local needs when designing programmes of education. Reinventing the Curriculum uses Scotland's Curriculum for Excellence as a rich case study analysing the strengths and weaknesses of this approach to curriculum design and development and exploring the implications for curriculum planning and development around the world.

The BERA-Sage Handbook of Research-Informed Education Practice and Policy Dominic Wyse, Vivienne Baumfield, Nicole Mockler, Martin Reardon, 2025-06-19 One of the most pressing topics worldwide is how we can improve education to enhance people's life chances. The BERA Sage Handbook of Research Informed Education Practice and Policy 2 Vol offers an in depth exploration of the ways in which education research intersects with and can lead to improvements in education. Through detailed examinations of educational policies, practices, values and research methodologies, the handbook navigates the complexities inherent in educational systems and in so doing presents a unique new picture of education worldwide. Volume One of the Handbook set focuses on Understanding Research Informed Education and Volume Two focuses on how to implement it. Across six parts and fifty two chapters, the authors and editors explore a myriad of critical topics including using research to promote equity within education systems, rethinking pedagogy and knowledge mobilisation through practitioner led inquiry. New developments in aspects such as systematic approaches to research synthesis are presented by world leading experts. Authors of the chapters draw from many different sources to provide a comprehensive understanding of education including perspectives from the arts, humanities, natural sciences and social sciences. This understanding combines cutting edge education research and scholarship to provide insights into how education is enacted in countries and institutions through policy and practice. Featuring a truly diverse team of scholars to account for global perspectives, the BERA Sage Handbook of Research Informed Education Practice and Policy 2 Vol is an invaluable resource for scholars, researchers, students and practitioners who are interested in the new frontiers in education research, policy and practice. Volume One: Understanding Research Informed Education. Part One: Defining and Theorising Research Informed Education. Part Two: Methodological Debates in the Field. Part Three: International Comparison and Educational Policy. Volume Two: Implementing Research Informed Education. Part Four: Effective policy and practice in national contexts. Part Five: Curriculum, pedagogy and assessment. Part Six: Practitioners and learners as researchers.

Philosophical Perspectives on Teacher Education Ruth Heilbronn,Lorraine Foreman-Peck,2015-04-27 Philosophical

Perspectives on Teacher Education presents a series of well argued essays about the ethical considerations that should be addressed in teacher training and educational policies and practices. Brings together philosophical essays on an underserved yet urgent aspect of teacher education. Explores the kinds of ethical considerations that should enter into discussions of a teacher's professional education. Illuminates the knowledge and understanding that teachers need to sustain their careers and long term sense of well being. Represents an important resource to stimulate contemporary debates about what the future of teacher education should be.

Knowing History in Schools Arthur Chapman, 2021-01-07 The knowledge turn in curriculum studies has drawn attention to the central role that knowledge of the disciplines plays in education and to the need for new thinking about how we understand knowledge and knowledge building. Knowing History in Schools explores these issues in the context of teaching and learning history through a dialogue between the eminent sociologist of curriculum Michael Young and leading figures in history education research and practice from a range of traditions and contexts. With a focus on Young's powerful knowledge theorisation of the curriculum and on his more recent articulations of the powers of knowledge this dialogue explores the many complexities posed for history education by the challenge of building children's historical knowledge and understanding. The book builds towards a clarification of how we can best conceptualise knowledge building in history education. Crucially it aims to help history education students, history teachers, teacher educators and history curriculum designers navigate the challenges that knowledge building processes pose for learning history in schools.

Beyond CLIL Do Coyle, Oliver Meyer, 2021-07-15 Offers an innovative holistic and evidence based pedagogic approach to deeper learning for all subjects of schooling.

Edinburgh History of Education in Scotland Robert Anderson, 2015-05-19 This book investigates the origins and evolution of the main institutions of Scottish education bringing together a range of scholars each an expert on his or her own period and with interests including but also ranging beyond the history of education.

Lesson Study and Schools as Learning Communities Atsushi Tsukui, Masatsugu Murase, 2018-09-21 School as Learning Community SLC or Lesson Study for Learning Community LSLC represents an approach to lesson study that emerged in Japan in the 1990s and which has been studied intensively by educators and researchers worldwide to establish democratic learning communities for teachers and students in schools. The model which involves all teachers in a school observing and sharing a lesson together creates a listening pedagogy to embrace and develop diversity of learning in each teacher and student a practice that is as yet not commonly researched in Asian countries outside of Japan. The book's theoretical foundation reviews existing literature on SLC and LSLC in the Japanese contexts of educational theories and practices. The chapters discuss patterns of learning practices and the challenges of conducting LSLC in Japan, Taiwan, Korea, Indonesia and Vietnam. Recommendations for research and practice involving SLC LSLC are also provided in the book with a key focus on the impact of lesson study on school reform policies.
