Towards translating research to clinical practice: Novel Strategies for Discovery and Validation of Biomarkers for Brain Injury Stefania Mondello, Ronald L Hayes, András Büki, Frank C Tortella, Kevin K W Wang, 2015-02-25 Traumatic brain injury TBI is a major cause of death and disability and one of the greatest unmet needs in medicine and public health TBI not only has devastating effects on patients and their relatives but results in huge direct and indirect costs to society Although guidelines for the management of patients have been developed and more than 200 clinical trials have been conducted they have resulted in few improvements in clinical outcomes and no effective therapies approved for TBI It is now apparent that the heterogeneity of clinical TBI is underlain by molecular phenotypes more complex and interactive than initially conceived and current approaches to the characterization management and outcome prediction of TBI are antiquated unidimensional and inadequate to capture the interindividual pathophysiological heterogeneity Recent advances in proteomics and biomarker development provide unparalleled opportunities for unraveling substantial injury specific and patient specific variability and refining disease characterization The identification of novel sensitive objective tools referred to as biomarkers can revolutionize pathophysiological insights enable targeted therapies and personalized approaches to clinical management In this Research Topic we present novel approaches that provide an infrastructure for discovery and validation of new biomarkers of acute brain injury These techniques include refined mass spectrometry technology and high throughput immunoblot techniques Output from these approaches can identify potential candidate biomarkers employing systems biology and data mining methods In this Research Topic we present novel approaches that provide an infrastructure for discovery and validation of new biomarkers of acute brain injury These techniques include refined mass spectrometry technology and high throughput immunoblot techniques Output from these approaches can identify potential candidate biomarkers employing systems biology and data mining methods Finally suggestions are provided for the way forward with an emphasis on need for a multidimensional approach that integrate a panel of pathobiologically diverse biomarkers with clinical variables and imaging based assessments to improve diagnosis and classification of TBI and to develop best clinical practice guidelines

McMinn,Lisa Graham McMinn,2024-10-22 We live in a day of fast information fast fingers fast food fast shipping fast words fast anger and fast judgment Our fight or flight impulses keep us on high alert aided by mobile devices that vibrate each time another crisis strikes All this fastness can easily interfere with a slow intentional life grounded in God s love Christian faith has deep treasures and practices to offer us How will we live and who will we be in this highly charged era where politics economics environment and social norms are under significant duress Come explore quieter more intentional ways of being and how these might attune us to the slow work of God in order that we might love one another and the world as God does Our chapters pair a lure to move fast with an invitation to slow Becoming slow to anger is an invitation to empathy slow to judge is an invitation to humility and slow to grasp is an invitation to contentment Ultimately each of these invitations is a movement toward God

Synbio and Human Health Iñigo de Miguel Beriain,Carlos María Romeo Casabona,2014-08-26

Since 2010 the Inter university chair in law and the Human Genome has been involved in an EU 7th Framework Programme funded Project called Sybhel leading work package 5 The aim of this work package was to face the issues related to synthetic biology and intellectual property rights In these years the Chair organized two international workshops devoted to this topic collecting a number of high level unpublished papers redacted by some of the most prominent experts in this field worldwide including Stephen Maurer Joachim Henkel Ingrid Schneider etc We consider that it would be extremely interesting to have them all gathered in a unique contributed volume which would be the first book exclusively dedicated to analyze the implications that Synbio may involve in what refers to the currently existing intellectual property rights system How Compassion Made Us Human Penelope Spikins,2015-05-07 An intriguing look at how our capacity to care about and connect with others has contributed to our evolutionary success as a species Our ability to care about the wellbeing of others whether they are close family or strangers can appear to be unimportant in today s competitive societies But in this volume archaeologist Penny Spikins argues that compassion lies at the heart of what makes us human She takes us on a journey from the earliest Stone Age societies two million years ago to the lives of Neanderthals in Ice Age Europe using archaeological evidence to illustrate the central role that emotional connections had in human evolution Simple acts of kindness left to us from millions of years ago provide evidence for how social emotions and morality evolved and how our capacity to reach out beyond ourselves into the lives of others allowed us to work together for a common good and form the basis for human success
