Gender and the Law of the Sea Irini Papanicolaou, 2019-05-07 Listen to the podcast with Nilufer Oral on Climate Change Oceans and Gender. In Gender and the Law of the Sea, a distinguished group of law of the sea and feminist scholars critically engages with one of the oldest fields of international law. While the law of the sea has been traditionally portrayed as a technical, gender-neutral set of rules of concern to States rather than humans, authors in this volume persuasively argue that critical feminist perspectives are needed to question the underlying assumptions of ostensibly gender-neutral norms. Coming at a time when the presence of women at sea is increasing, the volume forcefully and successfully argues that legal rules are relevant to ensure gender equality and the empowerment of women at sea in an effort to render law for the oceans more inclusive. Unlocking the Secrets of Rivers, Lakes, Oceans and Trees Hseham Ttud, 2023-12-06 The Earth has vast reserves of ocean water. Around 97 percent of total water is found in the oceans and simultaneously 70 percent of the Earth's area is covered with oceans. The world's generally all sea, mountains, lakes and the snow and water emerging from the mountains all get accumulated and meet in the oceans. The oceans found on Earth are monisms in our solar system. No such oceans are found on any other planet. Oceans have a whole world filled with mysteries and diffusion. Every living thing in the ocean is there to create amusement for us. Despite so much research, several mysteries of the oceans remain unsolved. The oceans, rivers, lakes and trees are very important to us and our environment as they provide us with fresh and clean water and food. Rivers flow from several origins. These origins can be lakes and mountains. Almost every river meets another river or ocean at the end of its journey. The river which meets the main river is called the tributary. The area through which a river passes is called its catchment area. To maintain the level of the river and its flowing speed, it is necessary to make sure that we don't exploit the catchment area. Many rivers become the cause of floods in many places in the monsoon season. If the river is large, then it can affect a large area. The rivers that carry a lot of topsoil with them often form deltas. Many forests grow on the banks of the rivers, including several species. Many fish have adapted to living in the rivers as well as the seas like the Hilsa and salmon fish. For thousands of years, rivers have played an important role in the lives of human beings and this is the reason why many important towns and cities are located on the banks of rivers. We love our rivers, we pray to them, but we also pollute them. We use the river for drinking and bathing as a means of transportation and entertainment. We also use it to generate electricity and then we throw the waste into the rivers. This is not taking advantage, but in this way we are ruining our future. We started

using rivers as a means of transportation 3 300 years ago This happened when people floated a boat for the first time on the river Indus From that time till now we can see several rivers used as a means of transportation Some of these rivers are the Ganges Nile and Mississippi Missouri We catch a lot of fish from these rivers which also help us with irrigation It is often said that our world resides in a small seed In the same way a small seed has a whole tree inside it These trees and plants are our first mothers Their leaves flowers roots fruits and seeds are a part of our daily diet and provide us with nutrition Without these trees our world is incomplete They provide us not only with food but also with oxygen They absorb carbon dioxide and release oxygen They also provide shade for the animals and a home for the birds Some plants are also used for medicine mostly herbs Neem is a good example of medicine The roots leaves seeds and bark of the Neem tree are all used to make medicines Plants and trees control the atmospheric temperature You must have noticed that the places with a lot of trees are mostly pollution free and have a cool temperature We all know that without trees life is impossible If no trees are left then our beautiful planet will become dry and lifeless We should understand the need to plant trees Our ancestors gave us a green environment and we should give the same to our future generations In this book detailed information has been given about our oceans rivers and lakes and a brief description of life giving trees has been given After reading this book and understanding the role these natural resources play in our lives we may understand their importance In Mahatma Buddha s words The trees are magical beings in this world They provide shade to all even to those who come with axes to cut them down

Paul's Message and Ministry in Covenant Perspective Scott J. Hafemann, 2015-01-22 The essays presented here represent over twenty five years of thinking about the theology and life of the Apostle Paul who as a slave of Jesus Christ Rom 1 1 was a servant of the new covenant with a ministry of the Spirit 2 Cor 3 6 8 Taking the questions raised by the history of scholarship since F C Baur as their starting point Hafemann s exegetical studies focus on how Paul s self understanding shaped his message the motivations of his ministry and his consequent call to suffer for the sake of his churches Hafemann s work reveals that Paul s views of redemption of his own redemptive mission and of the life of the redeemed derived from his eschatological conviction that the purpose of the new covenant realities inaugurated by the Christ is to prepare for their promised consummation when Christ returns to judge the world

Geochemistry of Organic Matter in the Ocean Evgenii A. Romankevich, 2013-11-11 My work Geochemistry of organic matter in the ocean first appeared in Russian in 1978 Since then much progress has been made in the exploration of various forms of organic matter in the ocean dissolved colloidal organic matter suspended in particles and that contained in bottom sediments and in interstitial waters The appropriate evidence is found in hundreds of articles and several review works such as Andersen 1977 Biogeochemie de a matiere organique a l'interface eau sediment marine 1980 Duursma and Dawson 1981 A great amount of new information has been obtained in the Soviet Union s scientific institutions on the composition and distribution in natural waters and bottom sediments of organic matter and its separate components playing a crucial role in the formation of the chemical and biological structure of the ocean and its productivity in the biogeochemistry of the elements and geochemistry of organic matter in the Earth's sedimentary cover. The areas of exploration have expanded over the past four and a half years to embrace many new little known regions including the Arctic seas. In contrast to the three preceding decades the research has been focused on investigating the existing forms the distribution and accumulation of organic matter in near continental oceanic zones between land and sea and in river estuaries.

Slave Trade Profiteers in the Western Indian Ocean Hideaki Suzuki, 2017-10-12 This book examines how slave traders interacted with and resisted the British suppression campaign in the nineteenth century western Indian Ocean. By focusing on the transporters, buyers, sellers and users of slaves in the region, the book traces the many links between slave trafficking and other types of trade. Drawing upon first person slave accounts, travelogues and archival sources, it documents the impact of abolition on Zanzibar politics, Indian merchants, East African coastal urban societies and the entirety of maritime trade in the region. Ultimately, this groundbreaking work uncovers how western Indian Ocean societies experienced the slave trade suppression campaign as a political intervention with important implications for Indian Ocean history and the history of the slave trade.
