Pre Entry Results 2016:

Family Migration and the Path to an Occupation Chieh Hsu, 2020-06-04 This book sheds light on the invisible early post arrival period of female family migrants traditionally considered to be low skilled or professionally quiescent With attention to the experiences of Chinese and Taiwanese women married to German men it examines the ways in which the private sphere marked by intermarriage couple dynamics and native foreigner relations constitutes the main locus of women s socialization in the host country as interactions with their intimate partners in the family realm shape both their self conceptions and their employment intentions Based on interviews with migrant women and their spouses the author outlines the subject positions that characterize female migrants attitudes to external constructs and entering the labor market showing that female family migrants frequently take on family migrant and wife roles that permeate intimate relationships and impede employment intentions but also often strive to realign with their pre departure independent selves and thus regain agency A study of gender dynamics and labor market entry among newly arrived female migrants this volume will appeal to scholars of sociology with interests in gender migration and work

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience including student teachers      Job Market Signaling in Public Administration Nico Gießmann,2024-10-30 The public sector urgently needs more personnel and must actively engage with the labor market to distinguish itself from the private sector Scholars recommend developing a strong public service brand and using sector specific motives to attract individuals who prefer public sector employment However public specific signaling often fails to attract a diverse range of applicants This book examines the signaling strategies in public and private job advertisements and explores how the public sector can emulate private sector appeal while balancing personnel policy trade offs involved with this manipulation A linguistic analysis of 5 000 public and private job advertisements was performed to reveal significant sectoral differences in word choice and content emphasis Further a preregistered online survey experiment measured the intention to apply to job advertisements with varying signaling intensities Therefore this book enhances the understanding of recruitment messaging and strategies to bridge public private sector differences      SimChart for the Medical Office: Learning the Medical Office Workflow
