Physical Science Grd1november 2014 Pand Memo 1:

Knowledge Discovery in Big Data from Astronomy and Earth Observation Petr Skoda, Fathalrahman Adam, 2020-04-09 Knowledge Discovery in Big Data from Astronomy and Earth Observation Astrogeoinformatics bridges the gap between astronomy and geoscience in the context of applications techniques and key principles of big data Machine learning and parallel computing are increasingly becoming cross disciplinary as the phenomena of Big Data is becoming common place This book provides insight into the common workflows and data science tools used for big data in astronomy and geoscience After establishing similarity in data gathering pre processing and handling the data science aspects are illustrated in the context of both fields Software hardware and algorithms of big data are addressed Finally the book offers insight into the emerging science which combines data and expertise from both fields in studying the effect of cosmos on the earth and its inhabitants

How We Teach Science John L. Rudolph, 2019-06-01 A former Wisconsin high school science teacher makes the case that how and why we teach science matters especially now that its legitimacy is under attack Why teach science The answer to that question will determine how it is taught Yet despite the enduring belief in this country that science should be taught there has been no enduring consensus about how or why This is especially true when it comes to teaching scientific process Nearly all of the basic knowledge we have about the world is rock solid The science we teach in high schools in particular laws of motion the structure of the atom cell division DNA replication the universal speed limit of light is accepted as the way nature works Everyone also agrees that students and the public more generally should understand the methods used to gain this knowledge But what exactly is the scientific method Ever since the late 1800s scientists and science educators have grappled with that question Through the years they ve advanced an assortment of strategies ranging from the laboratory method to the five step method to science as inquiry to no method at all How We Teach Science reveals that each strategy was influenced by the intellectual cultural and political circumstances of the time In some eras learning about experimentation and scientific inquiry was seen to contribute to an individual s intellectual and moral improvement while in others it was viewed as a way to minimize public interference in institutional science John Rudolph shows that how we think about and teach science will either sustain or thwart future innovation and ultimately determine how science is perceived and received by the public

The Palgrave Biographical Encyclopedia of Psychology in Latin America Ana Maria Jacó-Vilela, Hugo Klappenbach, Rubén Ardila, 2023-05-19 This biographical encyclopedia will provide the first comprehensive reference work on leading scholars and professionals who have contributed to the development and institutionalization of psychology in Latin America The figures biographed will include scholars who have made a significant theoretical contribution to the discipline as well as practitioners and those who have contributed to the institutionalization of psychology through their work in scientific organisations professional bodies and publications All persons included are recognized authorities and either natives of or long term residents in the region It will offer an invaluable reference point in particular for scholars of the history of psychology Latin American studies the history of science and global psychology as well as for historians psychologists and social scientists seeking international perspectives on the development of the discipline
