The Politics of Permaculture Terry Leahy,2021-07-20 Inspiring Crammed with lively interviews and grounded examples Ashish Kothari founder of Kalpavriksh Permaculture is an environmental movement that makes us reevaluate what it means to be sustainable Through innovative agriculture and settlement design the movement creates new communities that are harmonious with nature It has grown from humble origins on a farm in 1970s Australia and flourished into a worldwide movement that confronts industrial capitalism The Politics of Permaculture is one of the first books to unpack the theory and practice of this social movement that looks to challenge the status quo Drawing upon the rich seam of publications and online communities from the movement as well as extensive interviews with permaculture practitioners and organisations from around the world Leahy explains the ways permaculture is understood and practiced in different contexts In the face of extreme environmental degradation and catastrophic climate change we urgently need a new way of living

The Permaculture Garden Graham Bell,2005-03-21 Working entirely in harmony with nature The Permaculture Garden shows you how to turn a bare plot into a beautiful and productive garden Learn how to plan your garden for easy access and minimum labor save time and effort digging and weeding recycle materials to save money plan crop successions for year round harvests save energy and harvest water and garden without chemicals by building up your soil and planting in beneficial communities Full of practical ideas this perennial classic first published in 1995 is guaranteed to inspire inform and entertain

The Final Empire Wm. H. Kötke,2007-11 In spite of its tough message there is much compassion and humanity in The Final Empire Right away as you begin to read this work you sense increasingly the grand perspective in K tke s words He is not speaking of anarchy He is offering vital common sense It's just that his meaning is so unavoidably political And so much against what we have been taught all our lives The materialistic values of civilization teach us that the accumulation of wealth is progress The material wealth of the civilization is derived from the death of the earth the soils the forests the fish stocks the free resources of flora and fauna The ultimate end of this is for all human species to live in giant parasitical cities of cement and metal while surrounded by deserts of exhausted soils The simple polar opposites are the richness and wealth of the natural life of earth versus the material wealth of people living out their lives in artificial environments This amounts to a direct challenge to humankind A demand for radical change A re-envisioning of our part in the community of life and the precepts of individuality And Mr Ktke provides a strong argument for this case He traces the environmental scars of civilization through the ages Empire after empire desertification of the top soil winds its way around the globe in an erosive helix from China to India to Mesopotamia to Italy to North America As radical as it may seem at first glance The Final Empire is a necessary and sensible primer for the recovery of the planet It blends a critical statistical analysis of our deteriorating environment with a positivism of hope for a post empire age and a new whole human relation to the living community of Earth Dan Armstrong Author of the Novels Prairie Fire and Taming the Dragon The Food Forest Handbook Darrell Frey, Michelle Czolba, 2017-05-01 Learn how to mix and match plants in unique combinations to establish bountiful landscapes and create genuine self reliance in years to come A food forest is a productive landscape developed around a mix of trees and perennials Rooted in permaculture principles this integrated approach to gardening incorporates a variety of plants such as fruit and nut trees shrubs vines and perennial herbs and vegetables Food forests can help increase biodiversity protect valuable habitat for beneficial insects and promote food security and resilience all while providing an abundant harvest The Food Forest Handbook is a practical manual for the design and management of a home scale perennial polyculture garden Simple straightforward instructions guide the reader through Getting started site assessment and planning Tending the forest garden maintaining soil health succession planning mulching pruning and more The fruits of your labor crop profiles harvest storage nutrition and recipes This timely book makes the concept of food forests accessible to everyone offering a unique approach to low maintenance high yield sustainable food production What happens if we were to drop the boundary between the built environment and nature Wouldn't we all be much better off The Food Forest Handbook guides our first steps along that path Albert Bates author of The Biochar Solution Through this in depth practical book you will learn the strategies for effective planning design establishment and management of perennial polycultures I recommend this book to all those who are bringing diversity to their planting schemes Jude Hobbs permaculture land use consultant designer and educator Cascadia Permaculture Food Autonomy in Chicago Pancho McFarland, 2025-04-15 Through eighteen years of field research dialogues with colleagues deep involvement in the food movement community in Chicago and introspection Pancho McFarland asks Is the loosely connected network of Black and Indigenous land stewards and food warriors in Chicago an anticolonial force for the liberation of all our relations This examination of a sector of the food autonomy movement in Chicago provides important new ways of understanding race relations gender sexuality spirituality pedagogy identity and their importance to the dynamics of social movements Additionally the book explores how revolutionary culture principles and organization of American Indigenous diasporan Africans anarchist Mexicans and others have been adopted adapted or rejected in our food movement In this autoethnography of the food movement McFarland argues that at our best we work to establish a new society like that theorized and enacted by Indigenous and Black anarchists However the forces of Wetiko colonialism capitalism heteropatriarchy and white supremacy make the work of BIPOC food warriors difficult Wetiko s conceptual categories including race gender sexuality and citizenship influence our worldviews and affect our behaviors These limitations and our responses to them are captured in the dialogues and chapters of Food Autonomy in Chicago

Eat More Raw Steve Charter,2004 Socio-Environmental Crisis in Women's Novels and Films in The Americas

Victoria Jara,2025-03-31 The climate crisis has reached a critical point necessitating urgent global action Women s activism against environmental dispossession in the Americas manifests not only in protests and classrooms but also through artistic filmmaking and writing This book focuses on the overlooked contributions of women filmmakers and novelists highlighting how their work reveals the connections between environmental dispossession and various injustices related to gender ethnicity age class and labor It demonstrates that contemporary women in the Americas engage deeply with ecological issues analyzing their representations and identifying common principles across texts Using an interdisciplinary approach from environmental humanities gender and Indigenous studies and film and literary studies the author compares works from Canada and Latin America Three poetics emerge environmental destruction critiques harmful development care expands notions of reciprocity beyond the human and insurgency showcases struggles against extractivist models These works invite readers to understand the complex interconnections of environmental justice within society Creating a Life Together

Diana Leafe Christian,2003-06-01 Everything you need to know to create an intentional community from scratch An intentional community is a group of people who have chosen to live or work together in pursuit of a common ideal or vision An ecovillage is a village scale intentional community that intends to create ecological social economic and spiritual sustainability over several generations The 90s saw a revitalized surge of interest in intentional communities and ecovillages in North America the number of intentional communities listed in the Communities Directory increased 60 percent between 1990 and 1995 But only 10 percent of the actual number of forming community groups actually succeeded Ninety percent failed often in conflict and heartbreak After visiting and interviewing founders of dozens of successful and failed communities along with her own forming community experiences the author concluded that the successful 10 percent had all done the same five or six things right and the unsuccessful 90 percent had made the same handful of mistakes Recognizing that a wealth of wisdom were contained in these experiences she set out to distill and capture them in one place Creating a Life

Together is the only resource available that provides step by step practical how to information on how to launch and sustain a successful ecovillage or intentional community Through anecdotes stories and cautionary tales about real communities and by profiling seven successful communities in depth the book examines the successful 10 percent and why 90 percent fail the role of community founders getting a group off to a good start vision and vision documents decision making and governance agreements legal options finding financing and developing land structuring a community economy selecting new members and communication process and dealing well with conflict Sample vision documents community agreements and visioning exercises are included along with abundant resources for learning more

Revising Green Infrastructure Daniel Czechowski, Thomas Hauck, Georg Hausladen, 2018-10-08 Consider this How do we handle the convergence of landscape architecture ecological planning and civil engineering What are convenient terms and metaphors to communicate the interplay between design and ecology What are suitable scientific theories and technological means What innovations arise from multidisciplinary and cross scalar approaches What are appropriate aesthetic statements and spatial concepts What instruments and tools should be applied

Revising Green Infrastructure Concepts Between Nature and Design examines these questions and presents innovative approaches in designing green landscape or nature as infrastructure from different perspectives and attitudes instead of adding another definition or category of green infrastructure The editors bring together the work of selected ecologists engineers and landscape architects who discuss a variety of theoretical aspects research projects teaching methods and best practice examples in green infrastructure The approaches range from retrofitting existing infrastructures through landscape based integrations of new infrastructures and envisioning prospective landscapes as hybrids machines or cultural extensions The book explores a scientific functional approach in landscape architecture It begins with an overview of green functionalism and includes examples of how new design logics are deducted from ecology in order to meet economic and environmental requirements and open new aesthetic relationships toward nature The contributors share a decidedly cultural perspective on nature as landscape Their ecological view emphasizes the individual nature of specific local situations Building on this foundation the subsequent chapters present political ideas and programs defining social relations toward nature and their integration in different planning systems as well as their impact on nature and society They explore different ways of participation and cooperation within cities regions and nations They then describe projects implemented in local contexts to solve concrete problems or remediate malfunctions These projects illustrate the full scope presented and discussed throughout the book the use of scientific knowledge strategic thinking communication with municipal authorities and local stakeholders design implementation on site and documentation and control of feedback and outcome with adequate indicators and metrics Although diverse and sometimes controversial the discussion of how nature is regarded in contrast to society how human natural systems could be organized and how nature could be changed optimized or designed raises the question of whether there is a new paradigm for the design of social relations to nature The multidisciplinary review in this book brings together discussions previously held only within the respective disciplines and demonstrates how they can be used to develop new methods and remediation strategies City Veg Cinead
