Making Levantine Cuisine Anny Gaul, Graham Auman Pitts, Vicki Valosik, 2021-12-08 Melding the rural and the urban with the local regional and global Levantine cuisine is a m lange of ingredients recipes and modes of consumption rooted in the Eastern Mediterranean Making Levantine Cuisine provides much needed scholarly attention to the region's culinary cultures while teasing apart the tangled histories and knotted migrations of food Akin to the region itself the culinary repertoires that constitute Levantine cuisine endure and transform are unified but not uniform This book delves into the production and circulation of sugar olive oil and pistachios examines the social origins of kibbe Adana kebab shakshuka falafel and shawarma and offers a sprinkling of family recipes along the way The histories of these ingredients and dishes now so emblematic of the Levant reveal the processes that codified them as national foods the faulty binaries of Arab or Jewish and traditional or modern and the global nature of foodways Making Levantine Cuisine draws from personal archives and public memory to illustrate the diverse past and persistent cultural unity of a politically divided region At the Table Ken Albala, 2016-04-04 What's for dinner Not just in America but around the world And how is it cooked what's the historical significance of that food how is it served and consumed and who gets to clean up This book provides fascinating insight into how dinner is defined in countries around the world Almost universally dinner is a key meal in most countries around the world whether it be a simple dish of rice and beans a slice of pizza on the go or a multi course formal meal What do the specifics of how a meal is eaten by hand instead of with utensils for example say about a specific culture This fascinating one volume reference guide examines all aspects of dinner in international settings enabling insightful cross cultural comparisons and an understanding of the effects of modernization and globalization on food habits Some 50 countries are covered in chapters focusing on present day meal habits in Europe Asia the Middle East Africa and North and South America The commentary covers everything about the meal such as the time the cooking and preparation shopping for ingredients the clean up process gender based participation roles conversation or other social interactions and etiquette just about everything that happens at the table The book is ideal for classroom teaching and learning as the entries and photos are conducive to teaching students about other cultures directly supporting the National Geography Standards Students will be able to make informed comparisons between their own lives and the various cultural experiences described in the book Flavour Sabrina
