Regenerative Sanitation Thammarat Koottatep, Peter Emmanuel Cookey, Chongrak Polprasert, 2019-02-15 This book proposes Regenerative Sanitation as the next era of sanitation management and attempts to provide a foundation for the study of sanitation on the premise that sanitation is a complex and dynamic system that comprises of social ecological technological and resource systems The preconception is that sanitation will deliver maximal benefits to society only when there exists a cyclical integration of the three subsystems to enable appropriate linkages between technological design and the delivery platform so as to achieve optimal and sustained sanitation solutions It also calls for the rethinking of sanitation to change the narrative towards more progressive trajectories such as resource recovery and reuse rather than just amelioration It explores the contributions to food security livelihood support urban regeneration rural development and even local economies A new paradigm theory and ten principles for ensuring practical and effective sanitation solutions and management is presented In addition is a unique conceptual framework applicable to both developed and developing countries and to all stages processes and cycles of delivering sanitation solutions that could critically evaluate analyse and provide credible adequate and appropriate sanitation solutions All of which culminates in a strategic and practical application platform called Sanitation 4 0 that advocates for total rejuvenation and comprehensive overhaul with eight key strategic considerations for the implementation Regenerative Sanitation A New Paradigm For Sanitation 4 0 is inter and trans disciplinary and encourages collaboration between engineers scientists technologists social scientists and others to provide effective and practical user centred solutions It includes relevant case studies examples exercise and future research recommendations It is written as both a textbook for researchers and students as well as a practitioners guide for policymakers and professionals

Public Administration and Nonprofit Management in Practice Aimee L. Williamson, Marc Holzer, 2025-10-01 This insightful text edited by two renowned experts provides students of public administration and nonprofit management with a collection of relevant global case studies and corresponding activities The chapters are structured around common themes and concepts across the field including the foundations of public administration managing people and administering public services and improving efficiency and efficacy The cases which are derived from countries around the world focus on building the knowledge skills and abilities needed by public and nonprofit administrators globally providing a much needed supplement to many of the introductory texts in public administration Each case is contextualized by a short synopsis reflective questions references further reading and learning activities The compact case format helps students focus on a specific area of public management with organization by chapter giving instructors choices among cases and the ability to group related topics The discussion questions in the cases will develop students analytical thinking of real scenarios for the application of course content Public Administration and Nonprofit Management in Practice should be used as either core or recommended reading for courses on public and nonprofit management at both the undergraduate and graduate levels including Master of Public Administration MPA courses and related degree programmes Instructors will find comprehensive teaching notes online to support this case based approach to learning

Introduction to Global Health Kathryn H. Jacobsen, 2022-10-10 Introduction to Global Health is a comprehensive look at today s most critical global health concerns and the actions that people around the world are taking to solve public health problems and to promote health and wellbeing The Fourth Edition of Introduction to Global Health maintains the clarity and ease of use of the prior edition while featuring a greater emphasis on the specific interventions that are being implemented to promote longer healthier lives worldwide and prevent disease disability and early death in countries of all income levels Every chapter balances material about pandemics climate change and other emerging threats to global public health with evidence of how global health interventions are enabling progress toward achieving health equity

Bracing for the Apocalypse Anna Maria Bounds, 2020-06-04 Increasing American fear about terrorism environmental catastrophes pandemics and economic crises has fueled interest in prepping confronting disaster by mastering survivalist skills This trend of self reliance is not merely evidence of the American belief in the power of the individual rather this pragmatic shift away from expecting government aid during a disaster reflects a weakened belief in the bond between government and its citizens during a time of crisis This ethnographic study explores the rise of the urban preppers subculture in New York City shedding light on the distinctive approach of city dwellers in preparing for disaster With attention to the role of factors such as class race gender and one s expectations of government it shows that how one imagines Doomsday affects how one prepares for it Drawing on participant observation the author explores preppers views on the central question of whether to bug out or hunker down in the event of disaster and examines the ways in which the prepper economy increases revenue by targeting concerns over developing skills building networks securing equipment and arranging a safe locale A rich qualitative study Bracing for the Apocalypse will appeal to scholars of sociology and anthropology with interests in urban studies ethnography and subcultures

The United Nations world water development report, 2017 WWAP, UNESCO, 2017-03-15 The United Nations World Water Assessment Programme WWAP is hosted and led by UNESCO WWAP brings together the work of 31 UN Water Members and 38 Partners to publish The United Nations World Water Development Report WWDR series The annual World Water Development Reports focus on strategic water issues UN Water Members and Partners all experts in their respective fields contribute the latest findings on a specific theme The 2017 edition of the World Water Development Report focuses on Wastewater and seeks to inform decision makers inside and outside the water community about the importance of managing wastewater as an undervalued and sustainable source of water energy nutrients and other recoverable by products rather than something to be disposed of or a nuisance to be ignored The report s title Wastewater The Untapped Resource reflects the critical role that wastewater is poised to play in the context of a circular economy whereby economic development is balanced with the protection of natural resources and environmental sustainability and where a cleaner and more sustainable economy has a positive effect on the water quality Improved wastewater management is not only critical to achieving the Sustainable Development Goal on clean water and sanitation SDG 6 but also to other goals of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development

Environment, Health and Sustainable Development Emma Hutchinson, Sari Kovats, 2017-02-16 Longstanding evidence of the links between the environment development and human health has led to a recognition of the need for public health policy to address sustainable development in low middle and high income countries One of the great challenges for public health practitioners is to understand and try to modify the relationship between the environment and health This book examines the underlying concepts and history of environmental public health including the key factors Air pollution Chemical contamination Climate hazards Housing and the built environment This book has been fully revised to discuss recent international environmental conventions and legislation in the fast moving world of global environmental health UK and global issues are covered such as urbanization and the impact of transport on air pollution housing and indoor air quality and the impact of environmental change on high and low income countries Understanding Public Health is an innovative series published by Open University Press in collaboration with the London School of Hygiene Tropical Medicine where it is used as a key learning resource for postgraduate programmes It provides self directed learning covering the major issues in public health affecting low middle and high income countries The fully revised second edition presents the wide range of environmental issues that are relevant to public health with academic rigour but loses none of the ease of use for self directed study of the first edition with several new activities and feedback within each chapter Dr Sotiris Vardoulakis Head of Environmental Change Department Public Health England UK The broadening of the traditional scope of environmental health is clearly presented in this book The 19th century view of this branch of public health still prevalent among public health practitioners has finally been updated with a change to a global perspective Energy choices climate change ecosystem services waste are now appropriately included as environmental factors affecting health and through this lens traditional topics of air water and soil can be re interpreted This overview provides a solid foundation for all public health practitioners intending to include environmental health as part of a renewed mainstream public health capable of engaging with the full range of environmental challenges to sustainable health and wellbeing in contemporary societies Giovanni Leonardi Head of the Environmental Epidemiology Group Public Health England UK

Waste Works Brenda Chalfin, 2023-03-06 In Waste Works Brenda Chalfin examines Ghana's planned city of Tema theorizing about the formative role of waste infrastructure in urban politics and public life Chalfin argues that at Tema's midcentury founding a prime objective of governing authorities was to cultivate self contained citizens by means of tightly orchestrated domestic infrastructure and centralized control of bodily excrement to both develop and depoliticize the new nation Comparing infrastructural innovations across the city Chalfin excavates how Tema residents pursue novel approaches to urban waste and sanitation built on the ruins of the inherited order profoundly altering the urban public sphere Once decreed a private matter to be guaranteed by state authorities excrement becomes a public issue collectively managed by private persons Pushing self care into public space and extending domestic responsibility for public well being and bodily outputs popularly devised waste infrastructures are a decisive arena to make claims build coalitions and cultivate status Confounding high modernist ideals excremental infrastructures unlock bodily waste's diverse political potentials
