

An artistic illustration of two European Waxwings (Mniotilta ides) perched on a gnarled, light-brown branch. The bird in the upper left is shown in profile, facing left, with its head turned slightly towards the viewer. It has a reddish-brown crest, a black throat and face, and a body of warm, earthy brown tones. Its wings show a mix of grey, black, and white feathers, with a prominent yellow patch on the underside of the tail. The bird in the lower right is also in profile, facing right, with its head turned slightly towards the viewer. It has a similar color palette but with more pronounced grey on its wings and a more vibrant yellow on its tail. Both birds are surrounded by clusters of small, round, bright red berries hanging from thin, leafless branches. The background is a plain, light cream color.
