Extended Curriculum Programmes Tennyson Mgutshini ,2022-04-30 The introduction of ECPs in South African Universities is seen by many as South Africa s key strategy for addressing the problem of poor patterns of student success and has its basis on the uncontested acceptance that an extended study duration may be necessary to bring some categories of learners to a level of parity with the readiness expectations of their course of study Even so this transformative strategic imperative has been plagued by a range of challenges that include poor systems readiness poor selection mechanisms in the identification of ECP students poor numeracy and literacy amongst students and indifferent teacher involvement in ECPs This volume offers a rare insight into many of the above recognised challenges and in so doing provides critical matter for thought for educators within the higher education sector

Transforming Teaching and Learning in Higher Education Ruksana Osman, David J Hornsby, 2017-06-09

Universities face the prospect of becoming redundant unless the way teaching and learning takes place changes. This book explores the idea of transformation and pedagogy. In particular, it will highlight how universities are transformed through a set of pedagogical interventions and stances that integrate a sense of moral and ethical purpose to learning. Actively integrating cultural pluralism in developing knowledge and understanding aspires to liberate the learner from existing power structures by fostering a desire to challenge and change the social system in which we live and connects the reality around us and its many problems to the knowledge generation process. Campus Student Activism, Politics, and Citizenship in the 21st Century Tshishonga, Ndakhulu, 2025-04-03 Student activism and citizenship remain an integral part of the governance of academic institutions, democratizing the learning environment and advancing democratic values and societal change. As a result, student activism has become a key aspect of the global higher education landscape. Individually and through the student councils, students have been at the forefront fighting for social justice and equality inside their academic institutions and in larger society by fusing activism with citizenship. Through student activism and citizenship, students demonstrate their power to keep governments responsible and in redirecting the voices of students in higher education's decision-making processes. Further exploration may afford students the opportunity to influence social change by partaking in educational policy reforms and broadening global sociopolitical and economic growth. Campus Student Activism, Politics, and Citizenship in the 21st Century examines the dynamics of campus politics through student activism and citizenship perspectives, academia, public, private, and civil society sectors. It explores how student leadership engages university society stakeholders, including management and governance structures and student welfare and institutional policy reformation in defense of the rights and interests of students. This book covers topics such as higher education political engagement and social justice and is a useful resource for policymakers, government officials, sociologists, political scientists, academicians, and researchers.

International Case Studies in Service Learning Enakshi Sengupta, Patrick Blessinger, 2022-11-16 Shedding light on how successfully service learning has been adopted to the existing curriculum and the emergence of a new breed of students who are aligned with the needs of the community and undertake collaborative work to solve real-world issues, Volume 47 is invaluable to both researchers, teachers, and scholars. Southern Resistance in Critical Perspective Marcel Paret, Carin Runciman, Luke Sinwell, 2017-03-27 From the Arab Uprising to anti-austerity protests in Europe and the US Occupy Movement to uprisings in Brazil and Turkey, resistance from below is flourishing. Whereas analysts have tended to look North in their analysis of the recent global protest wave, this volume develops a Southern perspective through a deep engagement with the case of South Africa, which has experienced widespread popular resistance for more than a decade. Combining critical theoretical perspectives with extensive qualitative fieldwork and rich case studies, Southern Resistance in Critical Perspective situates South Africa's contentious democracy in relation to both the economic insecurity of contemporary global capitalism and the constantly shifting political terrain of post apartheid nationalism The analysis integrates worker community and political party organizing into a broader narrative of resistance bridging historical divisions between social movement studies labor studies and political sociology Inclusive Education in South African Further and Higher Education Tsediso Michael Makoelle, Cina P. Case, 2018-12-13 In what ways does access to undergraduate education have a transformative impact on people and societies What conditions are required for this impact to occur What are the pathways from an undergraduate education to the public good including inclusive economic development These questions have particular resonance in the South African higher education context which is attempting to tackle the challenges of widening access and improving completion rates in a system in which the segregations of the apartheid years are still apparent Higher education is recognised in core legislation as having a distinctive and crucial role in building post apartheid society Undergraduate education is seen as central to addressing skills shortages in South Africa It is also seen to yield significant social returns including a consistent positive impact on societal institutions and the development of a range of capabilities that have public as well as private benefits This book offers comprehensive contemporary evidence that allows for a fresh engagement with these pressing issues Global Voices in Higher Education Susan Renes, 2017-06-07 Traveling from Zimbabwe to New Zealand and on to Ghana and the United States the voices of higher education are presented in a way only scholars from these regions can fully articulate and understand The changing world of higher education challenges all of those involved in very unique ways In Global Voices in Higher Education scholars from 10 different countries share their work describing not only their research but also the context in which their work exists This book allows the reader to travel with these scholars to their colleges and universities and discover areas of concern in higher education from around the globe Social Media and Elections in Africa, Volume 2 Martin N. Ndlela, Winston Mano, 2020-02-14 This book the second of two volumes explores the challenges and opportunities presented by the increased presence of social media within African politics Electoral processes in Africa have assumed new dimensions due to the influence of social media As social media permeates different aspects of elections it is ostensibly creating new challenges and opportunities Most evident are the challenges of hate speech misogyny and incivility This book considers the impact of digital media before during and after elections as well as authorities attempts to legislate and regulate the internet in response Contributions to this volume analyse social media posts transgressive images newspaper articles and include case studies of Algeria Zimbabwe Kenya South Africa Nigeria and Uganda This results in the delivery of an original depiction of the use of social media in a variety of African contexts This book will appeal to academics and students of media and communication studies political studies journalism sociology and African studies To Count

Re-imagining Curriculum Lynn Quinn, 2019-11-15 The book argues that academics academic developers and academic leaders need to undertake curriculum work in their institutions that has the potential to disrupt common sense notions about curriculum and create spaces for engagement with scholarly concepts and theories to re imagine curricula for the changing times Now more than ever in the history of higher education curriculum practices and processes need to be shared the findings of research undertaken on curriculum need to be disseminated to inform curriculum work We hope the book will enable readers to look beyond their contextual difficulties and constraints to find spaces where they can dream and begin to implement innovative and creative solutions to what may seem like intractable challenges or difficulties Language Contact. Volume 2 Jeroen Darquennes, Joseph C. Salmons, Wim Vandenbussche, 2025-04-21
