

This exploded view diagram illustrates the assembly of a 4-cylinder internal combustion engine. The components are arranged in a hierarchical manner, showing the relationship between parts. At the top is the intake manifold, followed by the cylinder head, which houses the four cylinders. The crankshaft is positioned below the cylinder head, and the connecting rods are shown attached to it. The bottom part of the diagram shows the oil pan and various accessories like the water pump and alternator. The diagram uses color-coding to distinguish between different components and their sub-assemblies.
