In Animated Film and Disability Slava Greenberg analyzes over 30 animated works about disabilities including Rocks in My Pockets An Eyeful of Sound and A Shift in Perception. He considers the ableism of live action cinematography the involvement of filmmakers with disabilities in the production process and the evocation of the spectators senses of sight and hearing consequently subverting traditional spectatorship and listenership hierarchies. In addition Greenberg explores physical and sensory accessibility in theaters and suggests new ways to accommodate cinematic screenings. Offering an introduction to disability studies and crip theory for film media and animation scholars Animated Film and Disability demonstrates that crip animation has the power to breach the spectator's comfort evoking awareness of their own bodies and in certain cases their social privileges.
