Setswana Paper 3 June 2015:

The Bantu Languages Mark Van de Velde, Koen Bostoen, Derek Nurse, Gérard Philippson, 2019-01-30 Written by an international team of experts this comprehensive volume presents grammatical analyses of individual Bantu languages comparative studies of their main phonetic phonological and grammatical characteristics and overview chapters on their history and classification It is estimated that some 300 to 350 million people or one in three Africans are Bantu speakers Van de Velde and Bostoen bring together their linguistic expertise to produce a volume that builds on Nurse and Philippson's first edition The Bantu Languages 2nd edition is divided into two parts Part 1 contains 11 comparative chapters and Part 2 provides grammar sketches of 12 individual Bantu languages some of which were previously undescribed The grammar sketches follow a general template that allows for easy comparison Thoroughly revised and updated to include more language descriptions and the latest comparative insights New to this edition new chapters on syntax tone reconstruction and language contact 12 new sketch grammars thoroughly updated chapters on phonetics aspect tense mood and classification exhaustive catalogue of known languages with essential references This unique resource remains the ideal reference for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students of Bantu linguistics and languages It will be of interest to researchers and anyone with an interest in historical linguistics linguistic typology and grammatical analysis

Language and Decoloniality in Higher Education Zannie Bock, Christopher Stroud, 2021-05-20 Language and Decoloniality in Higher Education brings together a collection of diverse papers that address from various angles the issue of decoloniality language and transformation in higher education It reflects the authors' cumulative years of experience as educators in higher education in different southern contexts Distilled as case studies the authors use a range of decolonial lenses to reflect on questions of knowledge language and learning and to build a reflexive praxis of decoloniality through multilingualism Besides a number of decolonial perspectives which readers will be familiar with this volume also explores a conceptual framework Linguistic Citizenship developed over the past two decades by scholars in southern Africa In this collection Linguistic Citizenship is used as a lens to think beyond the inherited colonial matrices of language which have shaped this region and many other southern contexts for centuries and to re-imagine multilingualism and semiotics more broadly as a transformative resource in the broader project of social justice Although each chapter has firm roots in the South African context these studies have much to offer others in their quest for better worlds Of particular interest to global scholars are the authors' recounts of how they have grappled with leveraging the country's multilingual resources in the project of promoting academic access and success in the face of historical hierarchies of language and social power

Industrialization and Assimilation Elliott D. Green, 2022-12-22 This book explains why industrialization is the most important factor driving assimilation and ethnic change in the modern world

The Bible and

Gender-based Violence in Botswana Mmapula Diana Kebaneilwe, 2024-04-01 The Bible and Gender based Violence in Botswana foregrounds the rampancy of gender based violence against women and girls in biblical texts and how it resonates with gender based violence GBV in the author's contemporary context of Botswana The volume reads selected texts from the Bible alongside newspaper reports of GBV against women and girls in Botswana to show that while the Bible is taken as an authoritative text within the Botswana context it is riddled with GBV against female persons It asserts that by acknowledging and naming GBV in biblical texts and not concealing ignoring or spiritualizing it contemporary communities of faith will be able to confront the problem in these contexts By so doing the book argues the Bible will become a resource for positive transformation rather than a tool for supporting gender injustice The book appeals to everyone willing to see positive change in regard to gender in equality and is intended for a wide readership including researchers postgraduates church and other representatives of religious institutions and upper level undergraduates The Oxford Guide to the Atlantic Languages of West Africa Friederike Lüpke, 2025-06-17 This volume presents the first book length overview of the Atlantic languages a small family of languages spoken mainly on the Atlantic coast of West Africa Languages in this area have been used in diverse multilingual societies with intense language contact for the whole of their known history and their genealogical relatedness and the impact of language contact on their lexicon and grammar have been widely debated The book is divided into four parts The first provides an introduction to language ecologies in the area and includes two accounts of the genealogical classification of Atlantic languages Chapters in the second part offer grammatical overviews of individual languages including the most important non Atlantic contact languages Casamance Creole and Mandinka while the third part explores Atlantic languages from a typological perspective with chapters that explore formal and semantic aspects of their nominal classification systems nominalization strategies their rich system of verbal extensions and the stem initial consonant mutation that is attested in a subset of languages The final part of the book investigates Atlantic languages in their social environments including the creation of creole identities secret languages Ajami writing practices language acquisition the spread and use of Fula as a lingua franca digital language practices and language ideologies The volume is an essential tool for linguists interested in the languages of West Africa language history and classification patterns of language use in Atlantic societies and typology and language contact more broadly The Social Practice of Human Rights Joel R. Pruce, 2015-06-16 The Social Practice of Human Rights bridges the conventional scholar practitioner divide by focusing on the space in between The volume brings together cutting edge chapters that together set a new agenda for research grounded in the practice of critical self reflection on the strategies that drive communities dedicated to the advocacy and implementation of human rights The social practice of human rights takes place not in front of a judge but in the streets and alleys in the backrooms and out of the way places where change occurs Contributors to this volume investigate the contexts and efforts of activists and professionals devoted to promoting human rights norms This research takes as its subject the organizations and movements that shoulder the burden of improving respect for human dignity It argues that through a constructive critique of these patterns and practices scholarship can have a positive impact on the political world

Communicating Across Cultures and Languages in the Health Care Setting Claire Penn,Jennifer

Watermeyer,2017-12-16 This book offers a novel approach to understanding the complexities of communication in culturally and linguistically diverse health care contexts It marks the culmination of two decades of research in South Africa a context that has obvious application in a wider international climate given current globalization and migration trends The authors draw from a large body of evidence based across different sites and illnesses scrutinising both the language dynamics of intercultural health interactions and the perceptions and narratives of multiple participants Including a range of theoretical methodological and empirical considerations the volume sheds light upon qualitative research methods and their application in the intercultural context This book will be a valuable resource for health professionals medical educators and language practitioners as well as students and scholars of discourse analysis and the medical humanities

World Yearbook of Education 2017 Julie Allan,Alfredo J. Artiles,2016-12-01 This latest volume in the World Yearbook of Education series examines the relationship between assessment systems and efforts to advance equity in education at a time of growing inequalities It focuses on the political motives behind the expansion of an assessment industry the associated expansion of an SEN industry and a growth in consequential accountability systems Split into three key sections the first part is concerned with the assessment industry and considers the purpose and function of assessment in policy and politics and the political context in which particular assessment practices have emerged Part II of the book on assessing deviance explores those assessment and identification practices that seek to classify different categories of learners including children with Limited English Proficiency with special needs and disabilities and with behavioural problems The final part of the book considers the consequences of assessment and the possibility of fairer and more equitable alternatives examining the production of inequalities within assessment in relation to race class gender and disability Discussing in detail the complex historical intersections of assessment and educational equity with particular attention to the implications for marginalised populations of students and their families this volume seeks to provide reframings and reconceptualisations of assessment and identification by offering new insights into economic and cultural trends influencing them Co edited by two internationally renowned scholars Julie Allan and Alfredo J Artiles World Yearbook of Education 2017 will be a valuable resource for researchers graduates and policy makers who are interested in the economic trends of global education assessment

The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages Lutz Marten,Ellen Hurst-Harosh,Nancy C. Kula,Jochen Zeller,2025-08-19 This volume brings together leading scholars from Africa Europe the Americas and beyond to provide a detailed account of the languages of the Bantu family which cover an area from Cameroon and Kenya in the north to South Africa in the south The Bantu family is part of the Niger Congo phylum and one of the world s biggest language groups comprising around 500 languages The family includes major languages with large numbers of speakers such as Zulu Kinyarwanda and Swahili the most widely spoken and taught African language as well as many community languages and several endangered languages Bantu languages feature prominently in the complex and multilingual language ecologies that are characteristic of the linguistic situation in much of Africa and they provide rich evidence for the study of theoretical and comparative linguistics language contact and language change They play an important role in education commerce culture and artistic expression in the media and public discourse in governance and social justice and are central to the future of the continent and the well being of its communities The first part of The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages provides background and context with chapters exploring the history of research in the field language and prehistory in Bantu speaking Africa and typology and variation Chapters in the second part offer broad comparative overviews of Bantu phonology morphology syntax semantics and pragmatics socio and applied linguistics before Parts III VII cover more specific topics in Bantu linguistics across a variety of subfields ranging from structural issues such as the augment and melodic tone to historical and sociolinguistic topics such as Bantu languages in the diaspora and language policy and standardization The chapters in the final part offer individual structural overviews of a range of languages from across the Bantu speaking area The book will be an essential resource for students and researchers specializing in the Bantu languages and for typologists and comparative linguists more broadly

Ubuntu and Women: Building Community in Urban Areas Musa W. Dube, Rosinah M. Gabaitse, Mmapula D.

Kebaneilwe, Malebogo Kgalemang, Tshenolo J. Madigele, Tirelo Modie-Moroka, Pulane E. Motswapong, Senzokuhle D. Setume, 2023-08-15 The book takes us to women centred events in Gaborone the capital city of Botswana Data was collected from the conversations and events women hold with and for one another on the occasions of bridal Naomi Laban and baby showers Defining Ubuntu Botho as the belief that our humanity is only measured by our capacity to welcome respect and empower the other this research based book analyses how women practise Ubuntu Botho in the urban spaces where the community easily disintegrates to individualism isolation and poverty It seeks to explore how Ubuntu Botho intersects with gender and navigates its space around patriarchy marriage motherhood family and community It explores rituals and connections between women of different generations such as mothers and daughters daughters in law and mothers in law children and mothers and their struggles to uphold Ubuntu Botho in their families communities and workspaces in the face of patriarchy urbanisation capitalism and neo liberalism The book employs and generates a multitude of methods and theories to highlight women mothering and delivering Ubuntu Botho in the urban space communities Cognitive Science Jay Friedenberg, Gordon Silverman, 2015-09-23 Cognitive Science provides a comprehensive introduction to the field from multiple perspectives to help readers better understand and answer questions about the mysteries of the mind In each chapter the authors focus on a particular area in cognitive science exploring methodologies theoretical perspectives and findings then offering the critical evaluations and conclusions drawn from them Substantially updated with new and expanded content the Third Edition reflects the latest research in this rapidly evolving field
