Salinas Carol Lynn McKibben, 2022-01-25 An ambitious history of a California city that epitomizes the history of race relations in modern America. Although much has been written about the urban-rural divide in America, the city of Salinas, California, like so many other places in the state and nation whose economies are based on agriculture, is at once rural and urban. For generations, Salinas has been associated with migrant farmworkers from different racial and ethnic groups. This broad-ranging history of the Salad Bowl of the World tells a complex story of community building in a multiracial, multiethnic city where diversity has been both a cornerstone of civic identity and, from the perspective of primarily white landowners and pragmatic agricultural industrialists, essential for maintaining the local workforce. Carol Lynn McKibben draws on extensive original research, including oral histories and never-before-seen archives of local business groups, tracing Salinas's ever-changing demographics and the challenges and triumphs of Chinese, Japanese, Filipino, and Mexican immigrants, as well as Depression-era Dust Bowl migrants and white ethnic Europeans. McKibben takes us from Salinas's nineteenth-century beginnings as the economic engine of California's Central Coast up through the disproportionate impact of Covid-19 on communities of color today, especially farmworkers who already live on the margins. Throughout the century-plus of Salinas history that McKibben explores, she shows how the political and economic stability of Salinas rested on the ability of nonwhite minorities to achieve a measure of middle-class success and inclusion in the cultural life of the city without overturning a system based in white supremacy. This timely book deepens our understanding of race relations, economic development, and the impact of changing demographics on regional politics in urban California and in the United States as a whole.

The author revisits historical materials and brings to light new resources making extensive use of the 2005 Report of the Commission for Reception Truth and Reconciliation and contemporary diplomatic UN and news media reports to provide a precise context and chronology for the events in 2006 The book provides an analysis within which factors such as ethnic and inter communal violence security sector weaknesses and conflict between the army and police the constitution and legal system state building and peace building can be located in the larger context of the 2006 crisis Demonstrating how and why in the space of four weeks in April and May 2006 the newly independent country of Timor Leste plunged from UN success story into catastrophe this book will be of interest to academics working on Southeast Asian Politics Southeast Asian history Development Studies and Nation State and Peace Building and International Relations
