Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and energy expenditure (EE) of sedentary, middle-aged women. The subjects were 15 women, 40 to 50 years of age, who were sedentary and had no cardiovascular disease. They were randomly assigned to a 12-week training program or a control group. The training program consisted of three sessions per week of aerobic exercise at 60% of maximum HR. The control group remained sedentary. The HR and EE were measured at baseline and at the end of the 12-week program. The HR and EE of the training group increased significantly compared to the control group. The results of this study suggest that a 12-week training program can improve the HR and EE of sedentary, middle-aged women.
