personal inquiry into the slippery nature of truth The story begins in February of 2002 when a reporter in Oregon contacts New York Times Magazine writer Michael Finkel with a startling piece of news A young highly intelligent man named Christian Longo on the FBI's Ten Most Wanted list for killing his entire family has recently been captured in Mexico where he'd taken on a new identity Michael Finkel of the New York Times The next day on page A 3 of the Times comes another bit of troubling news a note written by the paper's editors explaining that Finkel has falsified parts of an investigative article and has been fired This unlikely confluence sets the stage for a bizarre and intense relationship After Longo's arrest the only journalist the accused murderer will speak with is the real Michael Finkel And as the months until Longo's trial tick away the two men talk for dozens of hours on the telephone meet in the jailhouse visiting room and exchange nearly a thousand pages of handwritten letters With Longo insisting he can prove his innocence Finkel strives to uncover what really happened to Longo's family and his quest becomes less a reporting job than a psychological cat and mouse game sometimes redemptively honest other times slyly manipulative Finkel's pursuit pays off only at the end when Longo after a lifetime of deception finally says what he wouldn't even admit in court the whole true story Or so it seems
