Kamran Talattof, 2015-03-05 Critical approaches to the study of topics related to Persian literature and Iranian culture have evolved in recent decades. The essays included in this volume collectively demonstrate the most recent creative approaches to the study of the Persian language, literature, and culture and the way these methodologies have progressed academic debate. Topics covered include culture, cognition, history, the social context of literary criticism, the problematics of literary modernity, and the issues of writing literary history. More specifically, authors explore the nuances of these topics: literature and life, poetry and nature, culture and literature, women and literature, freedom of literature, Persian language, power and censorship, and issues related to translation and translating Persian literature in particular. In dealing with these seminal subjects, contributors acknowledge and contemplate the works of Ahmad Karimi Hakkak and other pioneering critics, analysing how these works have influenced the field of literary and cultural studies. Contributing a variety of theoretical and interdisciplinary approaches to this field of study, this book is a valuable addition to the study of Persian poetry and prose and to literary criticism more broadly.

A Cup of Sin Simin Behbahani, 2023-08-15 Simin Behbahani's collection contains some of the most formative work of twentieth-century Persian literature. Written over almost a half-century, much of her poetry reflects the traumatic experiences that have shaped Iranian history: revolution and war. Behbahani balances artful inquiry and shocking realism in both her language and imagery to probe the depths of political, cultural, and moral oppression. In the traditional verse of the ghazal, she improvises with meter to echo and provide new interpretations.

Iran Without Borders Hamid Dabashi, 2016-08-09 No ruling regime writes. Hamid Dabashi could ever have a total claim over the idea of Iran as a nation, a people. For decades, the narrative about Iran has been dominated by a false binary in which the traditional ruling Islamist regime is counterposed to a modern population of educated, secular urbanites. However, Iran has for many centuries been a nation forged from a diverse mix of influences, most of them non-sectarian and cosmopolitan. In Iran Without Borders, the acclaimed cultural critic and scholar of Iranian history, Hamid Dabashi traces the evolution of this worldly culture from the eighteenth century to the present day, journeying through social and intellectual movements and the lives of writers, artists, and public intellectuals who articulated the idea of Iran on a transnational public sphere. Many left their homeland either physically or emotionally and imagined it from places as far flung as Istanbul, Cairo, Calcutta, Paris, or New York, but together they forged a nation as worldly as it is multifarious.

Say What Your Longing Heart Desires Niloofar Haeri, 2020-11-10 Following the 1979 revolution, the Iranian government set out to Islamize society. Muslim piety had to be visible in personal appearance and in action. Iranians were told to pray, fast, and attend mosques to be true Muslims. The revolution turned questions of what it means to be a true Muslim into a matter of public debate, taken up widely outside the exclusive realm of male clerics and intellectuals. Say What Your Longing Heart Desires offers an elegant ethnography of these debates among a group of educated middle-class women whose voices are often muted in studies of Islam. Niloofar Haeri follows them in their daily lives as they engage with the classical poetry of Rumi, Hafez, and Saadi, illuminating a long-standing mutual inspiration between prayer and poetry She recounts how different forms of prayer may transform into dialogues with God and in turn Haeri illuminates the ways in which believers draw on prayer and ritual acts as the emotional and intellectual material through which they think deliberate and debate The Poems of Parvin E'Tesami Paul
