Title of Paper

The purpose of this paper is twofold: 1) to inform students of MLA Style's formatting and citation guidelines, and 2) to offer students an easy-to-use template to format their own papers. To use this document as a template, simply click "Save As," retitle, and plug in the actual content of your paper (don't forget all the little details like the header and heading). Keep the original file for reference—it's a helpful resource! When writing within your new document, be careful not to erase the template's pre-set formatting.

MLA Style refers to two major aspects of your paper: 1) formatting and 2) citations. Formatting refers to how your paper looks: specific rules for margins, spacing, font style, headers, order of information, punctuation—that kind of stuff. Citation refers to the ways you share information about your research in the paper itself. Let's first overview formatting guidelines—that's easy—and then move onto the juicier topic of citation.

Every MLA paper contains a header, a heading, a paper title, and the text itself. The header includes the writer's last name and the page number. When you put that information in the header, it automatically populates above every other page. To make Word automatically paginate your paper, click into the Header and then, from the menu bar, select Insert→Page Number→Current Position. Also notice that the first page of the

A Commonsense Guide to Grammar and Usage with 2009 MLA Update Larry Beason, Mark Lester, 2010-07-14 This student friendly grammar guide helps students recognize correct and avoid the most common and serious grammar and usage errors. The text breaks complex concepts down into simple lessons, each focusing on a single essential skill. Everyday language and easy to remember tips make grammar easy to understand and clear examples and diagrams show rather than just tell how to identify and correct problems. Hundreds of exercises in the book and thousands more at Exercise Central provide students with plentiful practice.

Homework Helpers: English Language & Composition Maureen Lindner, 2023-06-23 Essential preparation for the new SAT Writing and Grammar Section. Homework Helpers English Language Composition is a user friendly review book that will make any student or those trying to help them feel like he or she has a private tutor. Each chapter includes detailed questions that allow students to assess how well they've mastered each idea. Not only does the author provide the right answers to these self study questions but also detailed explanations of why the wrong answers are wrong. When is a comma used? Why are some titles capitalized? How are dangling modifiers prevented? There are hundreds of grammatical and compositional rules, many of them difficult to understand and memorize. And just as many exceptions to the rules. Homework Helpers English Language and Composition focuses on all aspects of writing with clear lessons and exercises on Parts of speech, Punctuation, Tone, The writing process, Types of sentences, Types of essays, Revisions, Common errors to avoid. Students from high school through college will find this book to be an essential writing tool. Younger students can follow the lessons from beginning to end to learn everything they need to know about language and composition. The more experienced student can pick and choose lessons and exercises according to need, especially if they're facing the new SAT. The Homework Helpers Series is just what students need to boost their confidence and give them the help they need to ace even the most challenging classes and tests.
