

How to Write an Outline for a Persuasive Speech

Giving persuasive speeches isn't just for high school and college composition classes. You may already give persuasive speeches and not know it. Even if you're not formally presenting persuasive speeches, it's important to know how to present your ideas in such a manner. A format exists for outlining your thoughts in a persuasive speech. The format exists for a reason. It is a logical and powerful means of presenting your views.

Instructions

- 1 Select your topic. The more specific the topic, the better.
- 2 Set guidelines. You already know that you want to persuade. Now choose specifically what you want to persuade the listener to do. A speech to advance an idea is different than a speech that motivates the listener to action.
- 3 Get the listener's attention. Fill the listener with a sense of urgency.
- 4 Establish credibility. Explain to the listener why he should listen to you on this subject.
- 5 Make a definite statement. Your speech should have what is called a "thesis." A thesis is a clearly defined, one-sentence statement that sums up your argument.
- 6 Summarize your points. Explain why your subject is of urgent need. Tell the listener how she can help solve the problem. Outline the difference between a positive resolution and a negative resolution. Finally, leave the listener with a sense of how he can make a difference.
- 7 Summarize your points again. Briefly restate the main points of your speech. Take the listener through the speech again in highly abbreviated form.

Tips & Warnings

- Don't forget to add transitions in your outline. Without them your speech will be clunky and awkward.
 - Know your audience. Always be aware of who you are speaking to. Use the points that will best persuade that particular audience.
