

PHOTODUPLICATION OF 16 MILLIMETER FILMS WITH SPECIAL EFFECTS

The first step in the process is to select the material to be duplicated. This can be done by either using a standard 16mm film or a special effects film. The next step is to load the film into the duplicator. This is done by placing the film in the top of the machine and pulling it down to the bottom. The film is then loaded into the duplicator and the process begins. The duplicator will create a negative of the original film, which can then be used to create a positive. This process is repeated until the desired number of copies have been made.
