New Cultural Identitarian Political Movements in Developing Societies Sebastian Schwecke, 2012-12-06 Applying an intercultural and comparative theoretical approach across Asia and Africa this book analyses the rise and moderation of political movements in developing societies which mobilise popular support with references to conceptions of cultural identity The author includes not only the Hindu nationalist movement but also many Islamist political movements in a single category New Cultural Identitarian Political Movements NCIPM Demonstrating significant similarities in the pattern of evolution between these and European Christian Democracy the book provides an instrument for the analysis of these movements outside the parameters of the fundamentalism debate The book looks at a number of key variables for understanding the evolution of NCIPM and it goes on to analyse the transition of developing societies from rent based political economies to capitalism and the partial failure of this transition process It argues that there is a need to incorporate economic and class analysis in the study of political processes in developing societies against the continuing emphasis on cultural factors associated with the cultural turn of social sciences The book is an interesting contribution to studies in South Asian Politics as well as Comparative Politics
