Forest tenure reform implementation in Uganda Nsita, S.A., Nakangu, B., Banana, A.Y., Mshale, B., Mwangi, E., Ojwang, D., 2017-11-14 Key messages A recent study focusing on national and district level government officials involved in forest tenure reform implementation processes in Uganda has highlighted key challenges and opportunities for future improvements Analysis of responses shows that As reforms responded to a need for sustainable forest management and livelihood improvements activities leant towards forest protection rather than strengthening and securing community forest tenure rights Progress in tenure reform implementation has been below implementers expectations largely due to inadequate funding onerous processes of registration declaration and management of Private Natural Forests and Community Forests or in the case of Collaborative Forest Management negotiation of rights with Responsible Bodies The main economic social and political challenges faced by government officials implementing reforms were budgetary limitations poverty levels in forest adjacent communities migration and socio cultural norms Research respondents noted also that often politicians impeded rather than supported reform implementation processes Some of them derived political capital out of exerting pressure on technical staff to engage in as well as protect illegal activities The study revealed a number of technical problems that constrained the implementation of forest tenure reforms These included the tedious processes involved in getting the rights formalized community inability to protect and safeguard forest tenure rights and inadequate benefits accruing to communities involved in forest management activities There was no agreement among the respondents as to who is responsible for safeguarding community forest tenure rights Development partners and civil society organizations CSOs also undertook activities to support the securing of local tenure rights such as capacity building resource mobilization awareness raising and conflict resolution However such support was often shortlived and localized Although government and CSOs are both involved in reform implementation there is limited formal coordination between them

Constructing China Mobo Gao,2018-07-20 From fear and anxiety to celebration China s rise has provoked a variety of responses across the world In light of this phenomenon how are our understandings of China produced From West to East Mobo Gao interrogates knowledge production rejecting the supposed objectivity of empirical statistics and challenging the assumption of a dichotomy between the Western liberal democracy and Chinese authoritarianism By examining issues such as the Chinese Neo Enlightenment and neoliberalism national interest vested in Western scholarship representations of the Great Leap Forward and the Cultural Revolution and the South China Sea the book asks how is contemporary China constructed By dissecting the political agenda and conceptual framework of commentators on China Gao provocatively urges those not only on the Right but also on the Left to be self critical of their views on Chinese politics economics and history

Widening University Access and Participation in the Global South Edward Mboyonga,2024-12-31 Using a capability approach as an analytical framework this timely volume examines how access to higher education enabled through private universities can transform students lives and contribute to human development in low income countries in the Global South Providing new insights into the contribution of the private higher education sector in Africa s developmental agendas the book offers an alternative to human capital theory by offering an expansive notion on the value of higher education emphasising both the economic and the intrinsic societal and social benefits that come from access to university and raised aspirations The chapters identify and discuss six specific capabilities valued by students that higher education provides This includes epistemological access epistemic contribution aspiration recognition respect and belonging Ubuntu and employability The book foregrounds the voices of students and lecturers to explore students aspirations agency access and participation Ultimately promoting a reconsideration of access to higher education beyond numerical terms by focusing on students access to transformative knowledge as means to promote their freedom to achieve well being the book will appeal to scholars researchers and postgraduate students in higher education African education studies and international and comparative education more broadly

Uganda Jörg Wiegratz, Giuliano Martiniello, Elisa Greco, 2018-11-15 For the last three decades Uganda has been one of the fastest growing economies in Africa Globally praised as an African success story and heavily backed by international financial institutions development agencies and bilateral donors the country has become an exemplar of economic and political reform for those who espouse a neoliberal model of development The neoliberal policies and the resulting restructuring of the country have been accompanied by narratives of progress prosperity and modernisation and justified in the name of development But this self celebratory narrative which is critiqued by many in Uganda masks the disruptive social impact of these reforms and silences the complex and persistent crises resulting from neoliberal transformation Bringing together a range of leading scholars on the country this collection represents a timely contribution to the debate around the New Uganda one which confronts the often sanitised and largely depoliticised accounts of the Museveni government and its proponents Harnessing a wealth of empirical materials the contributors offer a critical multi disciplinary analysis of the unprecedented political socio economic cultural and ecological transformations brought about by neoliberal capitalist restructuring since the 1980s The result is the most comprehensive collective study to date of a neoliberal market society in contemporary Africa offering crucial insights for other countries in the Global South

Market adoption and diffusion of fecal sludge-based fertilizer in developing countries Otoo, Miriam, Gebrezgabher, Solomie, Danso, G., Amewu, Sena, Amirova, Iroda, 2018-12-15      Handbook of Research on Global Institutional Roles for Inclusive Development Baporikar, Neeta, 2022-06-24 With the history of multilateral governance and the impact of the global pandemic there is no doubt that we are at a transition between the system that marked the decades after the Second World War and a more extensive system of international governance that will characterize the world for the next generation That system may keep the long standing promise to serve the world's least advantaged or it may serve to marginalize them further For more than a century and a half the most powerful national governments have created institutions of multilateral governance that promise to make a more inclusive world a world serving women working people the colonized the backward the destitute and the despised That promise and the real impact need deliberation and discussion The Handbook of Research on Global Institutional Roles for Inclusive Development examines the concepts that have powerfully influenced development policy and more broadly examines the role of ideas in these institutions and how they have affected the current development discourse It enhances the understanding of how these ideas travel within systems and how they are translated into policy modified distorted or resisted Covering topics such as ethical consumption academic migration and sustainable global capitalism this book is an essential resource for government officials activists management academicians researchers students and educators of higher education and educational administration and faculty      Universities and Economic Development in Africa Nico Cloete, Tracy Bailey, Peter A. M. Maassen, 2011 Universities and economic development in Africa Pact academic core and coordination draws together evidence and synthesises the findings from eight African case studies The three key findings presented in this report are as follows 1 There is a lack of clarity and agreement pact about a development model and the role of higher education in development at both national and institutional levels There is however an increasing awareness particularly at government level of the importance of universities in the global context of the knowledge economy 2 Research production at the eight African universities is not strong enough to enable them to build on their traditional undergraduate teaching roles and make a sustained contribution to development via new knowledge production A number of universities have manageable student staff ratios and adequately qualified staff but inadequate funds for staff to engage in research In addition the incentive regimes do not support knowledge production 3 In none of the countries in the sample is there a coordinated effort between government external stakeholders and the university to systematically strengthen the contribution that the university can make to development While at each of the universities there are exemplary development projects that connect strongly to external stakeholders and strengthen the academic core the challenge is how to increase the number of these projects The project on which this report is based forms part of a larger study on Higher Education and Economic Development in Africa undertaken by the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa HERANA HERANA is coordinated by the Centre for Higher Education Transformation in South Africa

Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the captivating narratives that have charmed audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Private Admission At Makerere 2015 2016 : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Private Admission At Makerere 2015 2016 : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and suspenseful novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
