Political Translation Nicole Doerr, 2018-03-01 At a time when the legitimacy of democracies is in question calls to improve the quality of public debate and deliberative democracy are sweeping the social sciences Yet real deliberation lies far from the deliberative ideal Theorists have argued that linguistic and cultural differences foster inequality and impede democratic deliberation In this empirical study the author presents the collective practices of political translation which help multilingual and culturally diverse groups work together more democratically than homogeneous groups Political translation distinct from linguistic translation is a set of disruptive and communicative practices developed by activists and grassroots community organizers in order to address inequities hindering democratic deliberation and to entreat powerful groups to work together more inclusively with disempowered groups Based on ten years of fieldwork Political Translation provides the first systematic comparative study of deliberation under conditions of linguistic difference and cultural misunderstandings

Political English Thomas Docherty, 2019-08-08 From post truth politics to no platforming on university campuses the English language has been both a potent weapon and a crucial battlefield for our divided politics In this important and wide ranging intervention Thomas Docherty explores the politics of the English language its implication in the dynamics of political power and the spaces it offers for dissent and resistance From the authorised English of the King James Bible to the colonial project of University English Studies this book develops a powerful history for contemporary debates about propaganda free speech and truth telling in our politics Taking examples from the US UK and beyond from debates about the Second Amendment and free speech on campus to the Iraq War and the Grenfell Tower fire this book is a powerful and polemical return to Orwell's observation that a degraded political language is intimately connected to an equally degraded political culture

Political Speaking Justified Teresa Feroli, 2006 An Inspector Alvarez Mystery Inspector Alvarez is just considering whether he can surreptitiously leave work early when a colleague calls to tell him that an Englishman has been found dead in his car in his garage the engine on and the tank empty Alvarez chafing over the prospect of an evening on the job proceeds to the scene but his hopes of a quick and easy case are dashed for while the man was found in a car full of fumes it appears the cause of death was not carbon monoxide poisoning

Constitutional Law and Politics of Secession Antoni Abat i Ninet, 2023-07-31 This collection presents an analysis of the concept of secession and its constitutional accommodation alongside an assessment of the effects of secession in constitutional and international law The work proposes a new approach and insights into the existing literature that fill a gap from multidisciplinary and transdisciplinary perspectives The book approaches the topics of secession constitutionalism and their relationship from both theoretical and empirical perspectives including the analysis of particular secessionist examples such as Catalonia the Basque Country Tigray the Palestinian minority in Israel Bosnia and Herzegovina and the Mapuche Nation from a comparative constitutional perspective Elucidating these issues from different methodological and conceptual perspectives produces novelties in the scientific and constitutional debate The interplay between constitutions constitutional law and secession is indeed explored from philosophical socio legal but also from strict constitutional law outlooks Written by constitutional and public international law experts the book will be of interest to students academics and researchers working in the areas of constitutional law legal theory theory of the state philosophy of law and political science

South Africa, the Prospects of Peaceful Change Theodor Hanf, Heribert Weiland, Gerda Vierdag, 1981 The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art, 1858 Piety, Politics, and Power David D. Grafton, 2009-03-16 From the time of Martin Luther's writing of On War Against the Turk in 1529 to American Lutheran military chaplains serving in the U S led invasion of Iraq in 2003 Lutheranism has had a symbiotic relationship with Islam in the Middle East framed across cultural and religious borders There have been those who have crossed these borders to engage in mission and dialogue In Piety Politics and Power David Grafton examines the origins of the American Lutheran missionary movement in the Middle East with a focus on its encounter with Muslims and the varied Lutheran theological responses toward Islam The narrative is placed within historical contexts to provide an overarching background of Middle Eastern history and Christian Muslim Relations The survey covers Lutheran missionary communities in Persia Iraq Egypt Lebanon and Jerusalem and the West Bank including the work of the Lutherans working for the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions the Anglican Church Missionary Society the Lutheran Orient Mission the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod and the

Evangelical Lutheran Church in America Whether enthusiastic Pietists seeking the conversion of Muslims and Jews cautious theologians in dialogue with Islam Judaism or Oriental Orthodoxy or social activists working on behalf of refugees in Egypt and the West Bank Grafton argues that these Christian missionaries were all enmeshed in the politics of the communities in which they lived and either contributed to or suffered from the realities of Middle Eastern and international politics Given the current reality of Pax Americana in the Middle East the author asks the driving question about the role of American Lutheran missions and Lutheran Middle Eastern Muslim dialogue in the age of American power in the Middle East
