Operational Working Group

The Operational Working Group (OWG) was established in 2012 to oversee the implementation of the Operational Plan. The OWG is a cross-functional group of senior managers from across the company, including representatives from the Executive Committee, the Board of Directors, and the various business units. The OWG's primary responsibility is to ensure that the Operational Plan is effectively implemented and that the company's operational performance is consistently strong.

The OWG meets regularly to review progress against the Operational Plan and to identify any areas where further action is required. The OWG also provides a forum for senior managers to discuss operational issues and to coordinate their efforts to address these issues.

Operational Performance Overview

The company's operational performance was strong in 2013, with key metrics such as production volume, quality, and cost all showing positive trends. This was achieved through a combination of factors, including improved operational efficiency, better management of resources, and a focus on continuous improvement.

The company's operational performance was also supported by strong financial performance, with revenue and profit both showing significant growth. This was a result of the company's focus on operational excellence and its ability to manage costs effectively.

The company's operational performance was also a key factor in its success in winning new business, with customers citing the company's high quality and reliable service as key reasons for choosing it.

Quality Review

The Quality Review was conducted in 2013 to assess the company's quality management system and to identify any areas for improvement. The review was carried out by an independent third party and found that the company's quality management system was generally strong, with a focus on continuous improvement and a commitment to high quality.

The review also identified several areas where the company's quality management system could be improved, including the need for better documentation and more regular communication between departments.

Operational Excellence

The company's Operational Excellence program was launched in 2012 to drive continuous improvement across all areas of the business. The program is based on the principles of Lean Manufacturing and Six Sigma, and aims to reduce waste, improve quality, and increase efficiency.

The company's Operational Excellence program has been successful in achieving its goals, with significant improvements in operational performance across all areas of the business.
