The Hand of Compassion Kristen Renwick Monroe,2013-10-31 A fascinating treatise on moral psychology in depth interviews with five people who risked their lives to rescue Jews during World War II Publishers Weekly Through moving interviews with five ordinary people who rescued Jews during the Holocaust Kristen Monroe casts new light on a question at the heart of ethics Why do people risk their lives for strangers and what drives such moral choice Monroe s analysis points not to traditional explanations such as religion or reason but to identity The rescuers perceptions of themselves in relation to others made their extraordinary acts spontaneous and left the rescuers no choice but to act To turn away Jews was for them literally unimaginable In the words of one German Czech rescuer The hand of compassion was faster than the calculus of reason At the heart of this unusual book are interviews with the rescuers complex human beings from all parts of the Third Reich and all walks of life Margot a wealthy German who saved Jews while in exile in Holland Otto a German living in Prague who saved more than 100 Jews and provides surprising information about the plot to kill Hitler John a Dutchman on the Gestapo s Most Wanted List Irene a Polish student who hid eighteen Jews in the home of the German major for whom she was keeping house and Knud a Danish wartime policeman who took part in the extraordinary rescue of 85 percent of his country s Jews Monroe s analysis of these stories is a dramatic illumination of the power of identity to shape our most basic political acts including our treatment of others

Peace, Politics, and Religion Jeffrey Haynes, 2020-12-14 Relationships between peace politics and religion are often controversial and sometimes problematic Religion is a core source of identity for billions of people around the world and it is hardly surprising that sometimes it becomes involved in conflicts At the same time we can see religion involved not only in conflict It is also central to conflict resolution peace making and peacebuilding Religious involvement is often necessary to try to end hatred and differences frequently central to political conflicts especially but not only in the Global South Evidence shows that religious leaders and faith based organisations can play constructive roles in helping to end violence and in some cases build peace via early warnings of conflict good offices once conflict has erupted as well as advocacy mediation and reconciliation The chapters of this book highlight that religion can encourage both conflict and peace through the activities of people individually and collectively imbued with religious ideas and ideals

Why we need a revolution in the Social sciences: A post-colonial perspective Sujay Rao Mandavilli, 2024-05-11 We began our work in earnest in the year 2005 November 14th 2005 to be precise when Children's Day is celebrated all over India in commemoration of the birthday of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru the first Prime Minister of India The underlying philosophy of our work however stretches back to the early 1990s even the mid 1980s when we faced a great deal of cognitive dissonance in many of our endeavours and daily walks of life due to a constant exposure to and a bombardment by a large number of philosophies and ideas from different sources both human and non human In the year 2005 particularly after the aforesaid date we had reached out to several leading lights and luminaries in the fields of science religion philosophy and spirituality with a great deal of hope to meaningfully engage with them and elicit their own pet theories proposals and viewpoints on various issues and topics We had hoped that this would also help us in our own voyage and journey of discovery The results were indeed startling there was a wide variation in viewpoints based on the scholar in question's own religious linguistic and nationalistic affiliation and loyalties Therefore the age of ideology has still not formally or conceptually ended ending this can change many fundamental equations at a grassroots level and can make life better for all of us living in different parts of the world As a matter of fact Eurocentric biases in various fields of the social sciences has only served to throw up counter reactions and exacerbate ideological differences Intellectualism is also still weak in general particularly in developing countries particularly owing to the following factors
