I've Got Mail Jeff Stelling, 2020-09-17 An entertaining read especially for those who like to share their Saturday afternoons with Jeff and the Gang The Sun I've Got Mail is the brand new book from Jeff Stelling the Sunday Times bestselling author and host of Sky Sports iconic football show Soccer Saturday Reproducing a selection of correspondence he has received down the years Stelling tells some intriguing stories around his experiences in broadcasting and football This charming book is by turns warm and funny moving and poignant and invariably underpinned by a deeply rooted love of football and people It arrived while I was playing football I remember my mum running towards me dressed in pinny and slippers waving a piece of flesh coloured paper gripped in her hand the print all in slightly faded block capitals But the message from my new employer was clear and urgent BERNARD GENT UNWELL GO TO LEEDS IMMEDIATELY COVER LEEDS UNITED V MIDDLESBROUGH It was the first and last telegram I ever received It was a message that probably changed the course of my life It was the first of many pieces of correspondence during my life which have made me laugh cry or perhaps influenced my pathway in a more significant way Receiving letters by post or via e mail has always been important to me Even now I feel slightly disappointed if the postman passes the door without anything for me even though I know the chances are it will be a bill a parking fine a bank statement or a catalogue offering me clothing or garden furniture The same applies when my inbox is empty save for someone offering a deal on a used car or urging me to change my energy provider These days my mail is often from total strangers usually with a simple birthday or autograph request But at times the correspondence is emotional and sometimes it is angry Occasionally I'm entrusted with personal issues that the correspondents probably would not tell their closest friends The only thing they all have in common is they start Dear Jeff Or almost all do Smart Money Alex Duff, 2024-03-21 In 1978 when Alex Duff first went to watch Brentford players would go on midweek pub crawls near the Griffin Park stadium Sometimes in no fit state to go home they would crash out in a terraced home where one of them lived opposite the stadium gates The next morning they clambered into a white van which one of them would drive to training stopping on the way for a bacon sandwich and cup of tea at a greasy spoon caf Brentford had once played in the top flight but now idling in the third division were a second home for players and supporters but there was neither the ambition nor money to revive their best days They bumbled along until in 2005 fed up with trying to make a profit from a club with an ageing stadium in an unfashionable west London suburb owner Ron Noades agreed to hand over the business to supporters on the condition they take over responsibility for their 55 million overdraft One of the fans an Oxford University physics graduate called Matthew Benham was making millions of pounds from professional gambling and threw in a 500 000 lifeline to help keep the club afloat Initially as a sort of academic challenge he began figuring out if he could employ the mathematics which he used in beating the bookmakers to improve the club's performance on the pitch Smart Money is the story of how a scientist with an inquiring mind was set loose in a backwater of professional football and how he turned a modest little known team into a competitor in one of the world's most watched sports leagues
