The Writing of East and Central Africa G. D. Killam, 1984

A Social History of the Shona Novel Emmanuel Chiwome, 2002 Shona literature now comprises 85% of literature published for schools in Zimbabwe an indication of its significance for the understanding of the philosophical and historical base of the understanding of a language people and nation Chiwome s book argues that the productivity of Shona fiction is inseparable from the dialects of history first colonialism then development and exposes colonialist notions about Shona cultural values and the implications for reading and writing the literature He analyses Shona writers predilections for certain genres of fiction asking why colonialism did not produce historical committed literature and why moralistic and fantastical modes prevail In the latter part of the book he adopts Manichean and Fanonian psychoanalytic approaches to African fictional characters suffering inferiority and collective paranoia and discusses

Matiza,2025-03-15 This book argues the case for indigenous African languages which have been stripped of their importance and are now often overshadowed both officially through governmental language policies and informally through attitudes and ideologies by former colonial languages The authors present case studies from a range of countries in the region arguing that languages tell us peoples identities and that by dropping their own languages in favour of foreign and imperialist languages they lose their culture history and identity as well The book addresses many of the challenges currently associated with African languages with the intention of influencing policy and practice in favour of their resuscitation This book will be of interest to policy makers academics and tertiary students in fields including Language Policy and Planning Language Revitalisation Heritage Language Learning Indigenous and Endangered Languages and Language Attitudes and Ideologies

Education and Development in Zimbabwe Edward Shizha, Michael T. Kariwo, 2012-01-01 The book represents a contribution to policy formulation and design in an increasingly knowledge economy in Zimbabwe It challenges scholars to think about the role of education its funding and the egalitarian approach to widening access to education The nexus between education democracy and policy change is a complex one The book provides an illuminating account of the constantly evolving notions of national identity language and citizenship from the Zimbabwean experience The book discusses educational successes and challenges by examining the ideological effects of social political and economic considerations on Zimbabwe's colonial and postcolonial education Currently literature on current educational challenges in Zimbabwe is lacking and there is very little published material on these ideological effects on educational development in Zimbabwe This book is likely to be one of the first on the impact of social political and economic meltdown on education The book is targeted at local and international academics and scholars of history of education and comparative education scholars of international education and development undergraduate and graduate students and professors who are interested in educational development in Africa particularly Zimbabwe Notwithstanding the book is a valuable resource to policy makers educational administrators and researchers and the wider community Shizha and Kariwo's book is an important and illuminating addition on the effects of social political and economic trajectories on education and development in Zimbabwe It critically analyses the crucial specifics of the Zimbabwean situation by providing an in depth discourse on education at this historical juncture The book offers new insights that may be useful for an understanding of not only the Zimbabwean case but also education in other African countries Rosemary Gordon Senior Lecturer in Educational Foundations University of Zimbabwe Ranging in temporal scope from the colonial era and its elitist legacy through the golden era of populist universal elementary education to the disarray of contemporary socioeconomic crisis covering elementary through higher education and touching thematically on everything from the pernicious effects of social adjustment programmes through the local deprofessionalization of teaching this text provides a comprehensive wide ranging and yet carefully detailed account of education in Zimbabwe This engagingly written portrayal will prove illuminating not only to readers interested in Zimbabwe's education specifically but more widely to all who are interested in how the sociopolitical shapes education how ideology policy international pressures economic factors and shifts in values collectively forge the historical and contemporary character of a country's education Handel Kashope Wright Professor of Education University of British Columbia Aspects national identity Mapping World Anglophone Studies Pavan Kumar Malreddy, Frank Schulze-Engler, 2024-10-30 This book explores core issues in the emerging field of World Anglophone Studies. It shows that traditional frameworks based on the colonial and imperial legacies of English need to be revised and extended to understand the complex adaptations, iterations, and incarnations of English in the contemporary world. The chapters in this volume make three significant interventions in the field. First, they showcase the emergence of Anglophone literatures and cultures in parts of the world not traditionally considered Anglophone: Cuba, the Arab world, the Balkan region, Vietnam, Algeria, and Belize, among others. Second, they feature new zones of contact and creolization between Anglophone literatures, cultures, and languages such as Swahili, Santhali, Ojibway, and Hindi, as well as Anglophone representations of colonial encounters and contemporary experiences in non-Anglophone settings such as Cuba, Angola, and Algeria. And finally, the volume turns to Anglophone literary and cultural productions on new platforms such as social media and Netflix, and highlights the role of English in emergent sites of resistance involving women, Indigenous populations, queer, and other non-heteronormative sexualities, as well as post-conflict societies. Mapping linguistic transgressions and the transmigration of cultural tropes between Englishes, vernaculars, and a wide variety of other languages, with a rich set of case studies, this volume will be essential reading for courses such as world literatures in English, postcolonial studies, Anglophone studies, literature and culture, Indian Ocean worlds, Global Englishes, and Global South studies.
