La REDD+ et l'adaptation aux changements climatiques au Burkina Faso

Hermann W. Kambire, Ida Nadia S. Djenontin, Augustin Kabore, Houria Djoudi, Michael P. B. Balinga, Mathurin Zida, Samuel Assembe-Mvondo, 2015-05-27 Le présent profil du Burkina Faso en matière de REDD s'inscrit dans une dynamique d'analyse contextuelle au niveau national de l'opportunité ou des contraintes de sa mise en œuvre Pays sahélien le Burkina Faso a choisi comme participant au PIF grâce son potentiel substantiel de séquestration de carbone des forêts sèches au niveau mondial et son expérience importante dans la gestion participative des ressources naturelles Les superficies forestières estimées 13 305 238 ha subissent une dégradation et une déforestation accrues sous la double pression humaine et naturelle La surexploitation et la gestion non durable des forêts amplifiées par l'expansion agricole et le boom minier sont les principaux moteurs de cette dégradation et déforestation travers le PIF le Burkina Faso a laboré et adopté son RPP en 2012 Le processus REDD bénéficie de politiques et stratégies existantes qui lui sont favorables mais l'analyse de leur performance révèle qu'il faut favoriser la dégradation et la déforestation des ressources forestières révèle que certaines politiques ont été guidées par une logique de maximisation des retombées socio-économiques plus que de protection de l'environnement L'élaboration de la stratégie REDD sa mise en œuvre et sa réussite doivent se nourrir d'une évaluation en termes d'efficacité d'efficacités et d'impacts des éléments clés que sont le contexte institutionnel et de gouvernance la coordination des actions la participation des acteurs les mécanismes de MNV de partage des revenus Pour ce faire la mise en œuvre des deux projets du PIF constitue un processus d'apprentissage et un cadre de réflexion pour la REDD GEF Country Portfolio Evaluation: Benin (1991-2007),

Adaptation au changement climatique et coopération pour le développement : Document d'orientation

OECD, 2009-11-17 Cette publication présente des informations et des conseils essentiels sur les moyens d'intégrer effectivement l'adaptation au changement climatique dans les pratiques de développement Climate-Resilient

Development Astrid Carrapatoso, Edith Kürzinger, 2013-10-01 The concept of resilience currently infuses policy debates and public discourse and is promoted as a normative concept in climate policy making by governments non governmental organizations and think tanks This book critically discusses climate resilient development in the context of current deficiencies of multilateral climate management strategies and processes It analyses innovative climate policy options at national inter regional and local levels from a mainly Southern perspective thus contributing to the topical debate on alternative climate governance and resilient development models Case studies from Africa Asia and Latin America give a ground level view of how ideas from resilience could be used to inform and guide more radical development and particularly how these ideas might help to rethink the notion of progress in the light of environmental social economic and cultural changes at multiple scales from local to global It integrates theory and practice with the aim of providing practical solutions to improve complement or where necessary reasonably bypass the UNFCCC process through a bottom up approach which can effectively tap unused climate resilient development potentials at the local national and regional levels This innovative book gives students and researchers in environmental and development studies as well as policy makers and practitioners a valuable analysis of climate change mitigation and adaptation options in the absence of effective multilateral provisions

Resilient Cities Konrad Otto-Zimmermann, 2011-05-16 Even with significant reductions of greenhouse gas emissions a certain degree of climate change will inevitably occur Adapting to climate change then will become a necessary step in reducing the vulnerability of many regions across the globe This is especially true for urban areas where climate change has been shown to have particularly destabilizing effects Through the identification and analysis of the most relevant impacts facing urban areas this book makes clear the need to incorporate climate change concerns into the mainstream of local planning governance and policy making practices Adaptation as a workable concept within urban areas cannot be treated in isolation from the many pre existing challenges facing cities By offering numerous examples of ongoing adaptation programs and strategies across a wide range of contexts the authors show the growing potential of cities in the fight against climate change This book has its origins in a collection of papers originally presented at the Resilient Cities 2010 Congress in Bonn Germany May 2010 the first global forum on cities and adaptation to climate change convened by ICLEI Local Governments for Sustainability In this volume the first in a new series dedicated to this annual event a range of contributors bring their perspectives to bear on the most pressing issues and controversies surrounding adaptation to climate change within cities These writings will prove invaluable to anyone interested in understanding and confronting climate change at the local level
