S. Mullis,1993 The National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP 1992 reading assessment was administered to nationally representative samples of fourth eighth and twelfth grade students attending public and private schools and to state representative public school samples of fourth graders in 43 jurisdictions Nearly 140 000 students were assessed in all Data were summarized on the NAEP reading proficiency scale ranging from 0 to 500 and results were reported according to three achievement levels at each grade basic proficient and advanced Major findings were that 1 59% of the fourth graders 69% of eighth graders and 75% of twelfth graders reached the basic level or beyond 2 25% 28% and 37% of grade 4 8 and 12 students met or exceeded the proficient level respectively 3 from 2% to 4% of students at any of the grade levels achieved the advanced performance level 4 fourth graders within the basic level generally understood simple narratives 5 eighth graders reading within the basic level demonstrated literal understanding of passages 6 twelfth graders within the basic level were able to interpret aspects of the passages they read and make connections between their reading and their own knowledge 7 students attending private schools had higher average reading proficiency than students at public schools 8 considerable variation in performance existed within and across participating states 9 females had higher average reading proficiency than males at all three grade levels and 10 fourth graders appeared to be learning reading through varied instructional approaches Contains 67 tables and 9 figures of data a detailed description of anchoring the achievement levels an overview of procedures state contextual background factors and reading passages are attached RS NAEP 1998 Reading Report Card for the Nation and the States ,1999 Presents the results of the 1998 NAEP reading assessment for the nation and for participating states or jurisdictions Results in 1998 are compared to those in 1994 and 1992 Learning to Read in Our Nation's Schools Judith A. Langer,1990 To assess the reading achievement of American school children the National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP surveyed nationally representative samples of approximately 13 000 students at grades 4 8 and 12 attending public and private schools across the nation Students read a variety of literary and informative passages and then answered a series of multiple choice and open ended questions designed to measure their ability to read and comprehend these passages In addition students provided background information about their reading experiences both in and out of school To supplement this information the teachers of fourth graders participating in the assessment completed a questionnaire about the instruction their students received Findings indicated that 1 the average reading proficiency of students increased substantially from grades 4 to 8 and less dramatically from grades 8 to 12 2 at all three grade levels there were great differences in reading proficiency according to socioeconomic status 3 more proficient readers reported home and school environments that emphasized academic achievement 4 students reported doing very little reading in school and for homework 5 students interest in books seems to decrease as they progress through school 6 emphasis on beginning reading instruction in grades 1 2 and 3 is overwhelmingly phonics based 7 instruction for most fourth graders is based on a single basal reader and 8 reasoning activities are not emphasized in class Extensive tables of data are included a procedural appendix and an appendix of data are attached NKA Reading Report Card for the Nation and the States, 1998 (NAEP) Patricia L. Donahue,1999-08 Report by the National Center for Education Statistics on the National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP the nation's only ongoing survey of what students know and can do in various academic subject areas In 1998 NAEP conducted a national reading assessment of 4th 8th and 12th grade students and a state by state reading assessment of 4th and 8th grade students This report presents the results of the 1998 NAEP reading assessment for the nation and for participating states or jurisdictions Results in 1998 are compared to those in 1994 and 1992 Includes dozens of tables and figures Reading Time Catherine Compton-Lilly, 2015-04-24 While teachers cannot travel back in time to visit their students at earlier ages they can draw on the rich sets of experiences and knowledge that students bring to classrooms In her latest book Catherine Compton Lilly examines the literacy practices and school trajectories of eight middle school students and their families Through a unique longitudinal lens the author has studied these same students from first grade we see how students from a low income inner city community grow and develop academically revealing critical insights for teachers about literacy development identity construction and school achievement Based on interviews reading assessments and writing samples Reading Time advocates for educators to Provide opportunities for students to develop long term relationships with teachers and administrators Allow children and parents to share their stories to identify obstacles that students encounter as they move through school Collaborate and learn from students former teachers as well as inform their future teachers Develop portfolio systems and longitudinal records that highlight children s emerging interests abilities and potential for the future Catherine Compton Lilly is an associate professor in Curriculum and Instruction at the University of Wisconsin Madison She has taught in the public school system for 18 years Her books include Reading Families Re reading Families and Bedtime Stories and Book Reports The analysis here runs deeper than other contemporary critiques of accountability regimes and standardization inviting us instead to consider how time schooling and literacy have always been co constructed Reading Time features compelling examples of literacy practices that traverse generations which could only be understood through interviews and observations extending over time Kevin Leander Vanderbilt University Supporting Reading in Grades 6-12 Sybil M. Farwell, Nancy L. Teger, 2012-06-11 This book presents a curricular framework for students grades 6 12 that school librarians and teachers can use collaboratively to enhance reading skill development promote literature appreciation and motivate young people to incorporate reading into their lives beyond the required schoolwork Supporting Reading Grades 6 12 A Guide addresses head on the disturbing trend of declining leisure reading among students and demonstrates how school librarians can contribute to the development of lifelong reading habits as well as improve students motivation and test scores The book provides a comprehensive framework for achieving this the READS curriculum which stands for Read as a personal activity Explore characteristics history and awards of creative works Analyze structure and aesthetic features of creative works Develop a literary based product and Score reading progress Each of these five components is explained thoroughly describing how school librarians can encourage students to read as individuals in groups and as school communities support classroom teachers instruction and connect students to today s constantly evolving technologies Used in combination with an inquiry information skills model the READS curriculum enables school librarians to deliver a dynamic balanced library program that addresses AASL s
