

Prerequisites

Why should I create a custom image with the operating system of the target machine?

An image is a snapshot of a virtual machine (VM) that can be used to create new VMs. It is a snapshot of the state of the VM at the time it was created.

How can I create a custom image for a specific operating system? What are the steps to follow?

Get the image ID

1. To get the image ID, use the `oci_image` command to get the image ID of the image.

Why is the image ID not the same as the image name? What is the difference between the image ID and the image name?

The image ID is a unique identifier for the image. The image name is a human-readable name for the image. The image ID is used to identify the image in the OCI API.

How can I create a custom image for a specific operating system? What are the steps to follow?

1. To create a custom image, use the `oci_image` command to create the image. The image is created in the OCI image catalog.
