Similes

Malorie Blackman uses similes in the first chapter that create interesting and vivid images.

- I'd expected Callum's lips to be hard and dry and scaly like a lizard's skin.
- My heart was beginning to thump in a peculiar, hiccupy way that made me feel like I was racing down a roller-coaster.
- It shone like a shattered mirror, each fragment reflecting and dazzling.

Choose one of the following nouns and create five similes that describe or enhance that noun. Then arrange or modify them to create a simile poem about that object.

sun	wind	rain
fear	a smile	tears

Dreams

Callum dreams of escaping.

Write down what your dreams are. What do you hope to do or achieve – next week, next year, in the next five years, in the next twenty years?

Balancing the Basics Trevor Cairney, 1990

Mental Processes H. C. Longuet-Higgins, 1987 Can humans compute This is the question to which H Christopher Longuet Higgins one of the founding figures of cognitive science has devoted his research over the past twenty years His and his field s intellectual odyssey from the fringe to the center of the scientific world s attention is recounted with wit and grace in this wide ranging collection of previously published and original essays The volume begins in the late 1960s when the author had moved from theoretical chemistry to what was then known as theoretical biology It traces his search for new concepts with which to establish a science of the mind and it includes Longuet Higgins s famous comment on the 1971 Lighthill Report in which he introduced the term cognitive science and sketched the possible components of the field The essays are divided into five parts The first Generalities explores the basic philosophical questions at the root of the new science The essays on Music show the importance of the musical sense as a testing ground for understanding cognitive processes in general The author s forays into Language describe some of the major early achievements in the now very active field of computational linguistics The studies of Vision are all directed to the problem crucial for the development of machine vision systems of inferring the structure of a scene from two views The author suggests that the chapters on Memory be treated indulgently as the first attempt of a physical scientist to climb out of the mindless world of atoms and molecules into the real world of subjective experience H Christopher Longuet Higgins is Royal Society Research Professor at the University of Sussex MentalProcesses inaugurates the series Explorations in Cognitive Science edited by Margaret Boden and co sponsored by The MIT Press and The British Psychological Society A Bradford Book
