Wallace, 2001 Ecocriticism a field of study that has expanded dramatically over the past decade has nevertheless remained until recently closely focused on critical analyses of nature writing and literature of wilderness The authors push well beyond that established framework with this collection of essays by respected ecocritics and scholars from the literary and environmental arenas Mimesis and Alterity Michael Taussig, 2018-05-30 In this ambitious and accomplished work Taussig explores the complex and interwoven concepts of mimesis the practice of imitation and alterity the opposition of Self and Other The book moves from the nineteenth century invention of mimetically capacious machines such as the camera to the fable of colonial first contact and the alleged mimetic power of primitives Twenty years after the original publication Taussig revisits the work in a new preface which contextualises the impact of Mimesis and Alterity Drawing on the ideas of Benjamin Adorno and Horckheimer and ethnographic accounts of the Cuna Taussig demonstrates how the history of mimesis is deeply tied to colonialism and the idea of alterity has become increasingly unstable Vigorous and unorthodox this cross cultural discussion continues to deepen our understanding of the relationship between ethnography racism and society Kafka's Zoopoetics Naama Harel, 2020-05-04 Nonhuman figures are ubiquitous in the work of Franz Kafka from his early stories down to his very last one Despite their prominence throughout his oeuvre Kafka's animal representations have been considered first and foremost as mere allegories of intrahuman matters In recent years the allegorization of Kafka's animals has been poetically dismissed by Kafka's commentators and politically rejected by posthumanist scholars Such critique however has yet to inspire either an overarching or an interdiscursive account This book aims to fill this lacuna Positing animal stories as a distinct and significant corpus within Kafka's entire poetics and closely examining them in dialogue with both literary and posthumanist analysis Kafka's Zoopoetics critically revisits animality interspecies relations and the very human animal contradistinction in the writings of Franz Kafka Kafka's animals typically stand at the threshold between humanity and animality fusing together human and nonhuman features Among his liminal creatures we find a human transformed into vermin in The Metamorphosis an ape turned into a human being in A Report to an Academy talking jackals in Jackals and Arabs a philosophical dog in Researches of a Dog a contemplative mole like creature in The Burrow and indiscernible beings in Josefina the Singer or the Mouse People Depicting species boundaries as mutable and obscure Kafka creates a fluid human animal space which can be described as humanimal The constitution of a humanimal space radically undermines the stark barrier between human and other animals dictated by the anthropocentric paradigm Through denying animalistic elements in humans and disavowing the agency of nonhuman animals excluding them from social life and neutralizing compassion for them this barrier has been designed to regularize both humanity and animality The contextualization of Kafka's animals within posthumanist theory engenders a post anthropocentric arena which is simultaneously both imagined and very real Kafka and I and I Franz Kafka, Paula Kohlmann, Luke Haskett, 2011
