

Research Paper: Grade 5

Students are responsible for writing their papers as explained in class. Students will hear a presentation in class about writing their paper including the following topics:

- ❖ Learning to narrow a topic for research
- ❖ Learning to formulate questions about the topic chosen
- ❖ Learning to write a thesis statement
- ❖ Learning to write and know the difference between topic sentences and detail sentences
- ❖ Learning to take notes using a graphic organizer
- ❖ Learning to outline from the graphic organizer
- ❖ Learning to write concluding paragraphs
- ❖ Learning to write a Works Cited page.

Topic: What invention and inventor has had the biggest impact on your life today?

Purpose:

- To inform: give information about your chosen person, summarizing factual information from a variety of sources.
- To analyze: evaluate the research and present your conclusions. The research you include from other sources in your paper should support your conclusion that the inventor you have chosen is relevant to today's world. It is important to remember that this is not a paper where you have room to include your own opinions, particularly if they are not based on research. Even if you know something about your topic, you must back it up with the research found in your sources.
- To persuade: write in such a way that you convince your audience that your invention and inventor is significant to your life today.

Audience: your peers and teacher. Even though you are addressing your peers, you must use formal language. Slang and contractions are NOT allowed.

Point of View: Third person. Do not use any 1st or 2nd person pronouns such as "I" or "you". Instead, write in an objective format. For example: Instead of saying, "I believe the inventor and invention that has the biggest impact on my life today is..." Use this, "The inventor and invention that has the biggest impact on middle school students is..."

Length: Five (5) paragraphs of at least 5 – 7 sentences @ paragraph (not counting your Works Cited page)

Moore, 2004 Active Teaching and Active Learning Strategies Creating a Blueprint for Success is the cumulative result of a year of reflecting asking and listening to questions and comments that many have concerning the education of our youth The book's genesis however started many years ago as the state of California along with many other states embraced a standards based accountability system This accountability has now been coupled with the recent addition of The No Child Left Behind Legislation In a real sense we are entering both the best and worst of times I say this because of the effects of high stakes testing and the requirement that all students reach high levels of proficiency which admittedly are very lofty goals For this to be realized changes will be required in teaching and assessment as well as a more concentrated focus on student learning The instructional design introduced in this book advocates four components academic social collaborative contextual and cognitive developmental These components work in tandem with Active Teaching and Learning Strategies Combined they form a student responsive instructional methodology which optimizes student success and academic achievement We wanted to create a book that demonstrated to those of us in the field of education the value of looking at academic standards with data about our students and reflecting on how this information should influence our choices concerning instructional practices and our perceptions about the students that we are entrusted with The focus of this endeavor is to see all students achieve and succeed and to keep passion and compassion at the heart of all that we do It is the premise of this book that the difference between effective and outstanding teachers are that outstanding teachers care know how to utilize data practice active teaching strategies and promote the active learning of students Together these characteristics became the design and course of action that Created a Blueprint for Success Paper Trade Journal, 1921
