The Oxford Handbook of Terrorism Erica Chenoweth, Richard English, Andreas Gofas, Stathis N. The Evolution of EU Counter-terrorism Raphael Bossong, 2013 This book traces the evolution of the EU s fight against terrorism from the late 1970s until the end of the first decade after 9 11 This historical analysis covers both EU internal and international counterterrorism policies and features an in depth account of the EU s reaction to the terrorist incidents in New York Madrid and London In the first few weeks after these incidents the EU mobilised a complex but also incoherent set of policy measures which significantly influenced the course of European security over the years From a theoretical perspective this volume argues that context specific factors dominated over functionalist considerations in the EU s fight against terrorism Building on frameworks from public policy analysis the author demonstrates that EU institutions played a critical role as policy entrepreneurs while the many security measures were chosen on the basis of timing rather than significance Such short term political dynamics also explain the implementation deficits and persistent imbalances in the EU s counterterrorism policy limitations which still hinder its fight against international terrorism This book will be of much interest to students of EU policy counter terrorism European security public administration foreign policy and IR in general

Political Economy of Globalization: Financialization & Crises Mehak Anjum Siddiquei, Giorgi Benashvili, Hamza Şimşek, Sidar Atalay Şimşek, Berna Uymaz, Orhan Şimşek, Nalan Kangal, İlhan Eroğlu, Mustafa Necati Çoban, Kaan Yiğenoğlu, Nagehan Karanfil, Ümit İzmen, Barış Kocaarslan, Başak Ergüder, Ömer Yalçınkaya, Halil İbrahim

Aydın, 2016-12-28 This edited book is a collection of selected papers presented at the International Conference of Political Economy ICOPEC 2016. The deliberate employment of the term political economy in the title International Conference of Political Economy implies the fact that economics is perceived as an integral part of social phenomena in the International Conference of Political Economy ICOPEC. Accordingly, even if economic institutions and relations form the foundations of society in the contemporary world, economic development is dependent on social power and dynamics while economic policies per se are shaped by not only technical processes but also diverse interests and choices. Within this context, politics is involved in every encounter between different economic classes, social groups, and genders, being shaped by the visions of a better life as the subject matter of philosophy, ethics, and religion, and at times it finds its best expression in art. Law, on the other hand, is the embodiment of all social relations which are in their essence political. Thus, this conference does not reduce society to market relations only, despite positioning the economy in the heart of social relations. Above all, it considers the society as a political entity. Indeed, everything constitutes the subject matter of politics. The arguments in favour of purifying market relations from the influence of politics and the discourse that they take place on their own right serve to disguise the conflicts of interest and power asymmetries inherent therein. This conference regards man as homo politicus as Aristoteles put it, rather than homo economicus. In 2016, ICOPEC conferences were turned into a conference series with its 7th conference, and the main theme of the 7th conference was determined as State Economic Policy, Taxation, and Development. IJOPEC Publication has undertaken to publish selected papers presented at this conference in English and Turkish in five different edited books. In the 90s, the phenomena of globalization managed to dominate political, popular, and academic debates. While reading a newspaper or a book, watching television, surfing the Internet, or participating in a demonstration, we come across the links of globalization in our everyday lives. Globalization, as a wide term, is variously blamed or credited with a huge range of negative effects, e.g. it is often related to social problems ranging from famine to floods, from pollution to poverty, and from rural depopulation to urban overcrowding. On the contrary, globalization can be also considered as the source of success in development, for instance, decrease in the poverty levels, economic prosperity and growth, better services, and enhanced awareness of human rights. Nevertheless, some sceptics of the benefits from globalization have also described the potential ways in transforming political, economic, and social relations within and between countries. This transformation may lead to the benefit of human welfare worldwide. T. Smail, Iriner Bryan, Christiansen, Julia Dobрева, Introduction, Political Economy of Globalization, Financialization, Stockhammer 2013. One key component is the magnificent growth of the financial sector. Greenwood, although to a softer scope, similar processes can also be observed in other OECD countries. Philippon, Reshel 2013. The financial rise has its base in the deregulation and liberalization of the financial and economic system. From this point of view, financialization is the cause rather than the effect. This is the major difference compared to the other approaches. Financialization can affect the macro economy through four main channels. These are income distribution, investment in capital stock household debt and net exports and current account balances As a correction it is discussed that economic structures governed by financialization should be addressed on four dimensions a re regulation and reduction of the financial sector b redistribution of income from top to bottom and from capital to labour c re orientation of macroeconomic policies to stabilize domestic demand at non inflationary full employment levels and eventually d re creation of international monetary and economic policy coordination
