Blowers,2012-10-11 The theology of creation interconnected with virtually every aspect of early Christian thought from Trinitarian doctrine to salvation to ethics Paul M Blowers provides an advanced introduction to the multiplex relation between Creator and creation as an object both of theological construction and religious devotion in the early church While revisiting the polemical dimension of Christian responses to Greco Roman philosophical cosmology and heterodox Gnostic and Marcionite traditions on the origin constitution and destiny of the cosmos Blowers focuses more substantially on the positive role of patristic theological interpretation of Genesis and other biblical creation texts in eliciting Christian perspectives on the multifaceted relation between Creator and creation Greek Syriac and Latin patristic commentators Blowers argues were ultimately motivated less by purely cosmological concerns than by the urge to depict creation as the enduring creative and redemptive strategy of the Trinity The drama of the divine economy which Blowers discerns in patristic theology and piety unfolded how the Creator invested the end of the world already in its beginning and thereupon worked through the concrete actions of Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit to realize a new creation Introduction to the Medieval Mystics of Europe Paul E. Szarmach,1985-06-30 The European Middle Ages bequeathed to the world a legacy of spiritual and intellectual brilliance that has shaped many of the ideals preconceptions and institutions we now take for granted An Introduction to the Medieval Mystics of Europe examines this phenomenon in vivid and scholarly accounts of the lives and achievements of those men and women whose genius most inspired their own and subsequent ages These great mystics explored and consciously realized the relationship between human life and unconditioned transcendence Representing both the contemplative and scholastic traditions the mystics in these studies often found their solutions to ultimate questions in radically different ways Some of them such as Eckhart Aquinas and Cusa may already be familiar and here the reader will benefit from a new approach and summary of extensive research Others such as Smaragdus and several of the women mystics are little known even to specialists Finally and unusually for a study of European mysticism the influence of Spanish Kabbalists is discussed in relation to the Zohar and two figures from the mystical school of Safed Cordovero and Luria Though the essays focus on individuals the cultural and social implications of their lives and work are never ignored for the mystic way did not exist separately from the rest of medieval life it functioned as an integral part of the whole influencing the development of Christian and Jewish religions in both their internal and external forms
