the intention is not simply to explain the concept of the unconscious but to different degrees perform it in the text The book offers powerful critiques of current planning practice which has no tools to address our attachment to places It concludes with powerful critiques of our incapacity to change the environmentally damaging ways we live our lives which is an effect of our incapacity to recognise the presence of the death drive in our nature The text is an extended thesis spanning the chapters that the field of the Other is the common grammar that organises subjects into civilisations which has consequences for how we treat the public realm in architecture politics and the city The field of the Other is a slightly different slice through the urban social world It shadows but does not correspond exactly to more familiar categories like private public inside outside figure ground or piazza boulevard Reading Architecture with Freud and Lacan will be an essential resource to anyone interested in how the environment we build is a reflection of our desire Psychoanalysis is one of the great humanist discourses of the 20th century and this book will be a valuable reference to the humanist in architects planners and social scientists whether they are students professionals or amateurs It will appeal to historians of the 20th century and to psychoanalysts and architects who are interested in how their respective discourses interdigitate with each other and with other discourses
