Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 10-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and energy expenditure (EE) of sedentary, middle-aged women. The subjects were 15 women, 40 to 50 years of age, who were sedentary and had no cardiovascular or other medical problems. The subjects were randomly assigned to a 10-week training program or a control group. The training program consisted of three sessions per week of aerobic exercise at 60% of maximum HR. The control group did not exercise. The subjects were monitored for HR and EE at baseline and at the end of the 10-week program. The results showed that the training program had a significant effect on HR and EE. The HR of the training group decreased significantly from baseline to the end of the 10-week program, while the HR of the control group remained unchanged. The EE of the training group increased significantly from baseline to the end of the 10-week program, while the EE of the control group remained unchanged. The results of this study suggest that a 10-week training program can improve the cardiovascular fitness of sedentary, middle-aged women.

If you are not satisfied with your results, follow the instructions carefully and test your original article. If the referee's comments are of the "I'm going to work" and "I'm not sure" type, request a re-evaluation of the article and the referee's comments.

When you install your T-Value One Connection, improper installation of all four screws (52 connections for One Connection®) will affect the overall health, safety and life of the system. Proper ventilation is critical to maintain proper ventilation. Failure to maintain proper ventilation may result in a variety of problems with the product.

- When a producer's price for the output rises or falls, it must adjust its output level accordingly. A rise in the price of the output will cause a producer to produce more output, and a fall in the price of the output will cause a producer to produce less output.
