Narrating the Visual in Shakespeare Richard Meek, 2009 This book examines Shakespeare's fascination with the art of narrative and the viscosity of language Richard Meek argues that Shakespeare does not simply prioritise drama over other forms of representation Rather Shakespeare repeatedly exploits the int

Genre Bending Jeremy Rosen, 2025-12-09 Detective horror fantasy romance science fiction spy thrillers westerns zombie novels In recent decades acclaimed and ambitious writers of literary fiction have increasingly gravitated to popular fiction genres In this comprehensive account Jeremy Rosen describes literary fiction's embrace of genre fiction's conceits as genre bending and argues that while literary writers adopt genres for a wide variety of purposes what they share is a revitalized attitude toward genre a recognition that while genres can be used in formulaic ways they can also be adapted and transformed endlessly Rosen reads across the outpouring of fiction of the last several decades by writers like Margaret Atwood Michael Chabon Jennifer Egan Louise Erdrich Kazuo Ishiguro Chang rae Lee David Mitchell Cormac McCarthy Ian McEwan Haruki Murakami and Colson Whitehead He finds that literary writers embrace of popular genres is the product of several seemingly contradictory forces including their attempt to extend a modernist inspired project of formal experiment to pursue high cultural prestige and to preserve the distinctiveness of the literary which they perceive to be under threat while also embracing the role of providing pleasure to readers Examining what today's most critically acclaimed and widely read literary writers have done with the genres of genre fiction Genre Bending reveals the values practices and forms as well as the tensions that constitute literary fiction today

The Practice of Reading Derek Alsop, Chris Walsh, 1999-04-19 The Practice of Reading is a lucid and lively examination of the art of interpreting the novel in the context of recent developments in literary theory and criticism Believing that reading is or should be a pleasurable creative activity the authors analyse a range of seven novels from the eighteenth century to the present focusing upon the experiential dimensions of the reading process What is the role of the reader What happens when a novel is read How far does meaning depend on the reader and how far on the text These and other related questions are explored in readings of novels as diverse as Tristram Shandy Pride and Prejudice Great Expectations Daniel Deronda A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man Beckett's Trilogy and Possession In its insistence upon a return to the practice of close reading the book represents a timely intervention in current literary debates An accessible informative and above all stimulating text for all university and college students of literature

Mind, Body, Motion, Matter Mary Helen McMurrin, Alison Conway, 2016-04-06 Mind Body Motion Matter investigates the relationship between the eighteenth century's two predominant approaches to the natural world

mechanistic materialism and vitalism in the works of leading British and French writers such as Daniel Defoe William Hogarth Laurence Sterne the third Earl of Shaftesbury and Denis Diderot Focusing on embodied experience and the materialization of thought in poetry novels art and religion the literary scholars in this collection offer new and intriguing readings of these canonical authors Informed by contemporary currents such as new materialism cognitive studies media theory and post secularism their essays demonstrate the volatility of the core ideas opened up by materialism and the possibilities of an aesthetic vitalism of form

Balzac Michael Tilby, 2017-07-28 This canon of French literature Honore de Balzac 1799 1850 is also a major European figure in the development of realism His work is dominated by an inter related sequence of novels and short stories La Comedie Humaine which charts the idiosyncrasies of French society from the beginning of the nineteenth century to the 1840 s Among the most famous of these are Le Pierre Goriot and La Cousine Bette In this study Dr Tilby concentrates on the main approaches in practice and discusses some of the earliest responses to Balzac s work His introduction and headnotes set Balzac s work in context This book will be of interest to students of French language and literature and also to those studying French in combined studies or humanities courses

The Boy Detectives Michael G. Cornelius, 2014-01-10 Much has been written about the girl sleuth in fiction a feminist figure embodying all the potential wit and drive of girlhood Her male counterpart however has received much less critical attention despite his popularity in the wider culture This collection of 11 essays examines the boy detective and his genre from a number of critical perspectives addressing the issues of these young characters heirs to the patriarchy yet still concerned with first crushes and soda shop romances Series explored include the Hardy Boys Tom Swift the Three Investigators Christopher Cool and Tim Murphy as well as works by Astrid Lindgren Mark Haddon and Joe Meno

This Thing Called Literature Andrew Bennett, Nicholas Royle, 2015-02-11 What is this thing called literature Why should we study it And how Relating literature to topics such as dreams politics life death the ordinary and the uncanny this beautifully written book establishes a sense of why and how literature is an exciting and rewarding subject to study Bennett and Royle delicately weave an essential love of literature into an account of what literary texts do how they work and what sort of questions and ideas they provoke The book's three parts reflect the fundamental components of studying literature reading thinking and writing The authors use helpful familiar examples throughout offering rich reflections on the question What is literature and on what they term creative reading Bennett and Royle's lucid and friendly style encourages a deep engagement with literary texts This book is not only an essential guide to the study of literature but an eloquent defence of the discipline Modern Austrian Literature through the Lens of Adaptation Catriona Firth, 2012-01-01 For decades postwar Austrian literature has been measured against and moulded into a series of generic categories and grand cultural narratives from nostalgic restoration literature of the 1950s through the socially critical anti Heimat novel to recent literary reckonings with Austria's Nazi past Peering through the lens of film adaptation this book rattles the generic shackles imposed by literary history and provides an entirely new critical perspective on Austrian literature Its original methodological approach challenges the primacy of written sources in existing scholarship and uses the distortions generated by the shift in medium as a productive starting point for literary analysis Five case studies approach canonical texts in post war Austrian literature by Gerhard Fritsch Franz Innerhofer Gerhard Roth Elfriede Jelinek and Robert Schindel through close readings of their cinematic adaptations concentrating on key areas of narratological concern plot narrative perspective authorship and post modern ontologies Setting the texts within the historical cultural and political discourses that define the Alpine Republic this study investigates fundamental aspects of Austrian national identity such as its Habsburg and National Socialist legacies The Art of Eloquence Matthew Bevis, 2007-08-09 Matthew Bevis examines the relations between public speaking and literary expression in the lives and work of Byron Dickens Tennyson and Joyce Paying close attention to the procedures languages and styles of oratory reported in the newspapers and Hansard Bevis offers a new understanding of novels and poetry in relation to the public sphere in the 19th and early 20th centuries The Victorian Mind's Eye Julia Thomas, 2025-01-12 The Victorian Mind's Eye Reading Literature in an Age of Illustration The Victorians lived in an age of illustration In a matter of decades words and images had become enmeshed and entangled printed alongside each other in a spectacular array of printed forms The exponential growth of illustration not only radically changed literature but also changed the way that literature was read This book offers a major conceptualisation of the difference that pictures made to the reading of words Analysing an extensive range of illustrated material and drawing on the accounts of Victorian readers reviewers authors artists and psychologists the book describes how the Victorians characterised the effects of illustration and how illustrations in turn elicited and anticipated responses from their readers What emerges from these sources is the notion of a distinct mode of reading that determined readers material and mental engagements with illustrated literature The presence of images on the page was said to impact on whether readers created images in their mind as they read Illustrations generated feelings of pleasure or displeasure they determined what was read first what was recalled and what was etched in the memory By peering into the recesses of the mind's eye this book identifies the cognitive mechanisms and cultural politics that were central to how the Victorians described their reading of illustrated literature It suggests the significance of these ideas of reading for understanding the place of illustration in Victorian culture and the relation between words pictures and historical values and meanings Illustration was fundamental to how the Victorians read and to how we read the Victorians Analyzing Digital Fiction Alice Bell, Astrid Ensslin, Hans

Rustad, 2013-12-17 Written for and read on a computer screen digital fiction pursues its verbal discursive and conceptual complexity through the digital medium It is fiction whose structure form and meaning are dictated by the digital context in which it is produced and requires analytical approaches that are sensitive to its status as a digital artifact Analyzing Digital Fiction offers a collection of pioneering analyses based on replicable methodological frameworks Chapters include analyses of hypertext fiction Flash fiction Twitter fiction and videogames with approaches taken from narratology stylistics semiotics and ludology Essays propose ways in which digital environments can expand challenge and test the limits of literary theories which have until recently predominantly been based on models and analyses of print texts The Erotics of Talk Carla Kaplan, 1996 African American women's texts she demonstrates often dramatize their distrust of their readers their lack of faith in the cultural conversation through strategies of self silencing and self talk At the same time she argues the homoerotics of women's writing has too often gone unremarked Not only does longing for an ideal listener draw women's texts into a romance with the reader but there is an erotic excess which is part of feminist critical recuperation itself
