Legal guide on school food and nutrition Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2020-07-01 A solid international consensus has emerged on the importance of nutrition for children's development and well-being. At the Second International Conference on Nutrition ICN2 the Member States of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations FAO and the World Health Organization WHO committed to developing policies, programmes and initiatives to ensure healthy diets throughout the children's life cycle, emphasizing the potential of schools as platforms for integrated action. This Guide promotes a holistic and human rights-based approach to school food and nutrition in which legislation is an indispensable tool to ensure the sustainability of public policy goals set by a country. In light of international law and standards, it provides practical information and guidance to develop or strengthen national legislation to improve food security and nutrition in schools as well as community development. The Guide presents a range of regulatory options and legislative examples of state practice that may contribute to building sound and coherent legal frameworks for school food and nutrition. It is a useful resource for law practitioners, policymakers, parliamentarians and all actors who are involved in the design, implementation or monitoring of school programmes and policies and most particularly for those interested in taking legislative action, law making or law reform. "Code of Massachusetts regulations, 2013", 2013 Archival snapshot of entire looseleaf Code of Massachusetts Regulations held by the Social Law Library of Massachusetts as of January 2020.
